

A prehistoric landscape illustration. In the top left, a volcano erupts with orange lava and black smoke. In the top right, a black vulture sits on a bare, gnarled tree. The background is a blue sky with light clouds. The foreground features a grey rocky ground with several dark grey rocks and a cluster of white, curved bones or tusks on the right. A large, light grey rock face serves as a backdrop for the text. On the left side of the rock face, there are two black cave paintings: a mammoth and a bison. On the right side, there is a black stick figure painting of a person holding a bow and arrow. In the center of the rock face, there is a large, empty white rectangular box.
