About This Book

WARNING! Scaredy Squirrel insists that everyone put on No. 65 sunscreen before reading this book.

Scaredy Squirrel would rather stay at home than go on vacation. He decides to build his own “safe beach getaway” to avoid going to the real beach and risk falling in with the wrong crowd. When a vital component to his “safe beach” goes missing, Scaredy has to use all his courage to survive his summer adventure!

When going to the beach one must be prepared! Hats, sunglasses, bathing suits, beach balls...all the things that are needed for a hot summer day! Scaredy knows the importance of being prepared...starting with his strict Guide to Building a Safe Beach!

Readers will learn everything they need to know about overcoming fears with the aid of their trusty friend, Scaredy Squirrel.
