

Her wrist tingled! Sparkles swirled from her charm bracelet, then spiraled around her.

Cassie rose off the ground and flew after the light. She moved quickly through the trees, holding her basket of strawberries close so it wouldn't get caught on a branch.

The light darted along the deserted main path through Whimsy Woods. It was headed straight toward the town's outdoor movie theater!

Before long, Cassie reached the theater clearing. It was one of her favorite spots in Astral-on-Sea! A giant movie screen was set up on the far end. There were rows of benches to sit on, and a large grassy area where people could picnic. During movie screenings, snacks were sold at the kiosk that stood to one side.

Just then, Cassie spotted the silver light twinkling in front of a poster:

That looks interesting, thought Cassie, as she drifted gently to the ground.

Suddenly, the silver

