ROAD SHOW

Wow, did I ever have a great time on the road! I've been visiting retailers across the country for the last few months. I really and truly love to get out into stores and meet our retail partners and their customers and hear from them directly. Whether I'm seeing how an innovative merchandising fixture can create a new way for customers to discover product, or partaking in a well-executed event, those interactions inspire me. I also love just watching how customers browse a store, listening and learning from them about what they're looking for and why.

Partnership is so important to me, and I count on all of you to inform all of us at Klutz what you're seeing and hearing. Our Fall 2016 list reflects your feedback, with more products for 6- to 8-year-olds, all-new drawing and art books, products that appeal to both boys and girls, more line extensions of bestsellers, and, always, innovation.

Thanks for welcoming me into your communities, for helping me better understand the challenges and opportunities we are facing together, and for so generously sharing your time and talents as we work together to bring wonderful products to delight and inspire kids.

All my best,

Stacy
