Moi, je m'aime!

I Like Myself!

High on energy and imagination, this ode to self-esteem encourages kids to appreciate everything about themselves—inside and out. Messy hair? Beaver breath? So what! Here's a little girl who knows what really matters.

At once silly and serious, Karen Beaumont's joyous rhyming text and David Catrow's wild illustrations unite in a book that is sassy, soulful—and straight from the heart.

KAREN BEAUMONT is known for her lively and celebratory picture books, including Moi, je m'aime! and the New York Times best-seller I Ain't Gonna Paint No More!, both illustrated by David Catrow. She lives in Northern California.

DAVID CATROW is the illustrator of numerous notable books for children. He is also a nationally syndicated editorial cartoonist whose work appears in the New York Times, the Los Angeles Times, and the Chicago Sun-Times, as well as in nine hundred other newspapers. David lives in Springfield, Ohio.

Le premier jour d'école de madame Pépin

Move It, Miss Macintosh!

It's the first day of school and madame Pépin is certain about one thing: she isn't going! As she snuggles back under the covers, the doorbell rings. In comes M. Rassembleur, the school principal, who assures her that all kindergarten teachers have first day jitters.

Still, madame Pépin is anxious. What if she can't find her class? What if no one likes her? When she finally stands at the front of her class, she can tell that the children are nervous too. That's when she comes up with an idea to put everyone at ease—including herself.

A perfect read-aloud to children who may be anxious about school, this book will get them laughing—and reassure them—as they get ready for the big day.

PEGGY ROBBINS JANOUSKY holds a master's degree in education and has taught on all levels—preschool through college. Peggy's work has appeared in three of Lee Bennett Hopkins' anthologies, as well as several children's magazines. She lives in Orlando, Florida.

MEGHAN LANDS writes and draws a monthly strip for Owl Magazine, as well as pursuing her freelance graphic career as a cartoonist, illustrator, and storyboard artist. She graduated with distinction from Concordia University's Fine Arts program. Meghan lives in Montreal.

J'en ai assez de la 1^{re} année!

I Quit Grade One

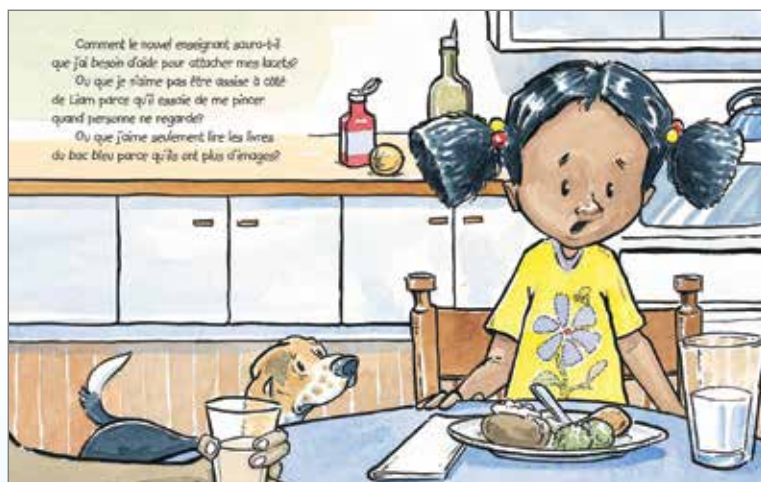

Stella loves everything about being in madame Cartier's class, and she worries that no new teacher could know that she needs help tying her shoelaces, or that she only likes to read books from the blue bin because they have more pictures. So Stella writes the principal a letter, with tips for training a new teacher to be just like madame Cartier. When Stella meets the new teacher for the first time, he's not like madame Cartier at all but Stella can't believe everything that he knows! Maybe the rest of the year won't be so bad after all?

This heartwarming story of the incredible bond that children have with their elementary school teachers will resonate just as strongly with young readers and old. Just the right touch of humour and a cleverly told story will have readers engaged and adults not minding at all when they're asked to read it again (and again).

Many of NANCY WILCOX RICHARD'S books draw on her experiences as an elementary school teacher. Whether it's facing the challenges of bullying, such as in La belle et la brute, or reaching out to accept others, such as in Un secret trop lourd, her subjects resonate strongly with elementary kids. Her previous picture book with Tom Goldsmith, Entre amis, was shortlisted for the OLA Blue Spruce Award. Nancy lives on a picture-perfect lake in Nova Scotia.

TOM GOLDSMITH was born and raised in Toronto, Ontario. For more than twenty years, he has produced countless illustrations for the North American advertising, book, and magazine market. Tom works from his studio in a 130-year-old Victorian home that he shares with his wife and two children in the village of Coldwater, Ontario.

L'immense valise de Valérie

The Enormous Suitcase

Valérie thinks she should live in one house, and her mom and dad should visit her. Instead, she puts her books, unicorn picture, and favourite pillow in her suitcase and carries them with her as she goes back and forth between two houses. But what will happen when she decides to pack up the dog?

A charming story about a girl making the best of her co-parenting situation, and the mom and dad (and dog!) who love her.

Fun fact: Robert Munsch wrote this story for a girl named Kelsey Roach in Calgary, Alberta, who wrote to him and asked for a story about a family like hers.

ROBERT MUNSCH is Canada's bestselling author of more than fifty picture books for young readers. His heartwarming and hilarious stories are beloved by children, parents, teachers and booksellers alike. In 2009, he was inducted into Canada's Walk of Fame. He lives in Guelph, Ontario.

MICHAEL MARTCHENKO illustrations are as instantly identifiable and lovable as Robert Munsch's stories. His wild and colourful pictures add depth and even more hilarity to these picture book tales. He received the CBA Children's Illustrator of the Year Libris Award in 2006. He lives in Toronto, Ontario.

But like any puzzle, a little trial and error leads to a solution, and Oliver figures out exactly where he belongs.

Imagine un arbre

Picture a Tree

Picture a tree — from every season, from every angle — and then, look again!

A tree gives shade and shelter; its colours excite and soothe us. It can be a pirate ship, a bear cave, a clubhouse, a friend; an ocean, a tunnel, a high rise home sweet home. It evokes family, growth, changes, endings, and new beginnings.

Imagine un arbre is about a lot of things — it's about trees, of course: their environment, their life cycles, how humans and other creatures interact with them. But it's also about learning to find different ways of looking at things; about imagination; about growing.

Les écureuils qui se querellent

The Squirrels Who Squabbled

Greedy squirrels Cyril and Bastien both have their sights on a very special prize: THE VERY LAST NUT OF THE SEASON! As the nut bounces crazily through the forest, the squirrels race after it, between the trees, over boulders, down the river and — ARGH! — right to the edge of a waterfall! Working together might be the only way to save themselves now...

A laugh-out-loud tale about friendship and sharing from the bestselling creators of La souris qui rugit and Le koala qui ne voulait pas. Perfect for competitive friends and sibling rivals!

RACHEL BRIGHT is a writer of words, drawer of pictures and thinker of happy thoughts. With a cacophony of quirky characters tumbling tirelessly from her imagination, she is one of England's most prolific talents. Creating a growing portfolio of beautifully imagined children's stories, an award-winning card and gift empire, Rachel brings her own unique sunshine to the very young and the slightly older alike.

JIM FIELD is a hugely talented illustrator. His first picture book Cats Ahoy! written by Peter Bently won the Booktrust Roald Dahl Funny Prize in 2011 and was nominated for the Kate Greenaway award. Jim lives in London.

Les mots volés

Stolen Words

Winner of Second Story Press' Aboriginal Writing Contest for Canadian Aboriginal writers of children's stories!

When a man's granddaughter asks him how to say 'grandfather' in Cree, it unleashes a river of emotion when he admits that he doesn't know his language anymore. Seeing her grandfather upset, she helps him find his words again.

This sensitive, beautifully illustrated picture book explores the intergenerational impact of the residential school system that separated young Indigenous children from their families. The story recognizes the pain of those whose culture and language were taken from them, how that pain is passed down, and how healing can also be shared.

MELANIE FLORENCE is a Canadian author of Cree and Scottish heritage. Her first book, Jordin Tootoo: The Highs and Lows of the First Inuit to Play in the NHL was chosen as an Honor Book by the American Indian Library Association. Melanie's fiction writing includes the teen novel One Night and the picture book Missing Nimama, winner of the TD Canadian Children's Literature Award. Melanie lives in Toronto.

GABRIELLE GRIMARD has illustrated over 30 picture books, including When I Was Eight and Not My Girl. This is her first book as both author and illustrator. She lives in Montreal.

These are the questions Molly Potter poses in her fabulous new picture book. Filled with beautiful illustrations, Veux-tu être mon ami? is both humorous and charming, and prompts children to discuss the idea of friendship with their parents and peers.

Il n'y a pas de dragon dans cette histoire

There is No Dragon In This Story

Poor old dragon. Nobody wants him in their story. Not Goldilocks, not Hansel and Gretel—no one. But Dragon will not give up! He shall continue on his course of finding someone who wants him in their story. ANYONE. His boundless enthusiasm surely won't get him into any trouble. Surely...

A glorious story about dragons, heroes, and ice cream with sprinkles.

Triangle

Multi-award-winning, New York Times best-selling duo Mac Barnett and Jon Klassen conspire again on a slyly funny tale about some very sneaky shapes.

Meet Triangle. He is going to play a sneaky trick on his friend, Square. Or so Triangle thinks... With this first tale in a new trilogy, partners in crime Mac Barnett and Jon Klassen will have readers wondering just who they can trust in a richly imagined world of shapes. Visually stunning and full of wry humour, here is a perfectly paced treat that could come only from the minds of two of today's most irreverent—and talented—picture book creators.

MAC BARNETT is the New York Times bestselling author of many picture books, including Extra Yarn and Max et Sam creusent, creusent, creusent..., both illustrated by Jon Klassen and both Caldecott Honor Award winners. He is also the author of the bestselling Terrible Two series with Jory John. Mac lives in Berkeley, California.

JON KLASSEN is an animator and Governor General's Award-winning creator of children's books. His book Ce n'est pas mon chapeau won both the American Caldecott Medal and the British Kate Greenway Medal, making Jon the first person to win both awards for the same work. Jon was born in Winnipeg, Manitoba and currently resides in Los Angeles.

“Children will be intrigued by the fairy-tale quality of this narrative and may enjoy debating the motivations of its peculiar characters.”

“Whereas the humor in Max et Sam creusent, creusent, creusent... was subtle and sly, this shape showdown is pure, antic buffoonery.”

Maybe he wants to be in a funny story after all...

Comment apprivoiser un fantôme

How To Make Friends With a Ghost

What do you do when you meet a ghost?

One: Provide the ghost with some of its favourite snacks, like mud tarts and earwax truffles.

Two: Tell your ghost bedtime stories.

Three: Make sure no one mistakes your ghost for whipped cream or a marshmallow when you aren't looking!

If you follow these few simple steps and the rest of the essential tips in Comment apprivoiser un fantôme, you'll see how a ghost friend will lovingly grow old with you.

A whimsical story about ghost care and supernatural friendship, Rebecca Green's debut picture book is a perfect combination of offbeat humor, quirky and sweet illustrations, and the inspiring evergreen theme of friendship.

REBECCA GREEN is an illustrator, painter, and self-proclaimed make-believe maker. In addition to working as an illustrator for children's and young adult books, magazine and galleries, she also helps run The Warren, a studio in Nashville that houses five working artists and hosts a variety of community events. How to Make Friends with a Ghost is her first picture book.

Lila and the Crow

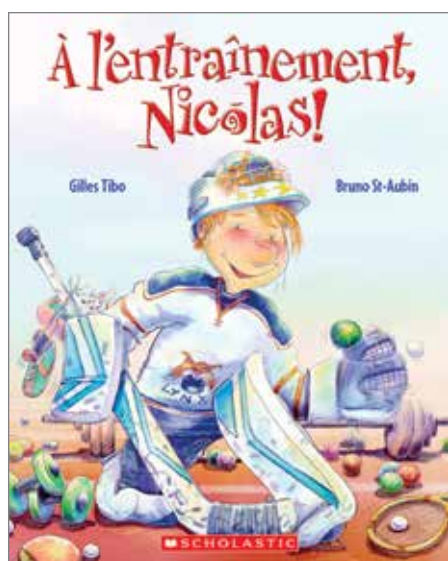

Lila has just moved to a new town and can't wait to make friends at school. But on the first day, a boy points at her and shouts: "The new girl's hair is black like a crow!" The others whisper and laugh, and Lila's heart grows as heavy as a stone. The next day, Lila covers her hair. But this time, the boy points at her dark skin. When she covers her face, he mocks her dark eyes. Now every day at school, Lila hides under her turtleneck, dark glasses, and hat feeling sad and alone.

At her lowest point of despair, a magical encounter with the crow opens Lila's eyes to the beauty of being different, and gives her the courage to proudly embrace her true self.

A touching story on the impact of bullying and finding the strength to overcome such adversity.

GABRIELLE GRIMARD has illustrated over 30 picture books, including When I Was Eight and Not My Girl. This is her first book as both author and illustrator. She lives in Montreal.

À l'entraînement, Nicolas!

Never Enough Hockey

When Nicolas has to miss training camp because of a very badly timed flu, his despair is followed by the determination to find a new sport. While his hockey mates are learning new skills, Nicolas rounds up his other friends to show him the sports they love. He tries tennis, gymnastics, yoga, running, swimming, and weight lifting. His friends teach him lots of great skills, but with each new sport he realizes he really does love hockey best.

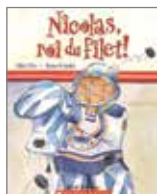

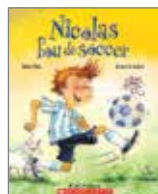

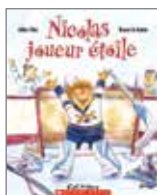

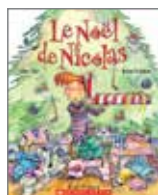

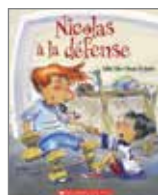

On the day of hockey tryouts, Nicolas' new skills help elevate his level of play. Not only does he make the team, he gets the position of starting goalie! In the end, he learns that trying something new and getting help from friends can go a long way.

The Heart's Song

Children flock to madame Lili, who always has the right tool to repair a broken toy or sew on a missing button. Love, Santa

The beautiful truth about Santa.

In a series of letters, a young girl writes to Santa to ask about the North Pole, Mrs. Claus, and of course, Christmas goodies. Year after year, Santa writes back, and a heartwarming relationship develops, until one year, the girl writes to her mother instead: Mom, are you Santa? Her mother responds to say that no, she is not Santa. There is no one Santa. Because Santa is bigger than any one person — we bring him out through kindness to one another and the power of imagination.

This transformative tale spins a universal childhood experience into a story about love, giving, and the spirit of Christmas.

MARTHA BROCKENBROUGH is the author of two books for adults and five books for young readers, including The Game of Love and Death, a Kirkus Prize finalist; Devine Intervention; and The Dinosaur Tooth Fairy. She lives in Seattle, Washington.

Oh non! Une présentation!

How to Be Brave

When Daniel blew out the candles on his eighth birthday he had made a wish: to be brave like Fiona.

Fiona and Daniel are twins but they aren't anything alike. Fiona is fearless. She loves to watch spooky movies, she never sleeps with a nightlight, and she cannonballs right into the deep end of the pool. Daniel needs a little more time to feel comfortable in new situations.

As the twins get ready to start all over at a new school in April, Daniel needs all the courage he can get!

Will Daniel see last year's wish come true—especially when he has to give a presentation to the whole class?

As always, Nancy Wilcox Richards draws on her many years teaching elementary school and effortlessly ties in curriculum links, along with the character traits explored here.

NANCY WILCOX RICHARDS taught elementary school for a number of years. She is the author of How to Tame a Bully, How to Outplay a Bully, How to Handle a Bully, How to Be a Friend and How to Fix a Lie, as well as the Farmer Joe series of picture books and We're All Friends Here. All are published by Scholastic Canada Ltd. She lives in Hebbville, Nova Scotia.

les lundis de 12 h 30 à 13 h. C'est très amusant!

Daniel repense au club de guitare de son ancienne école. Il ne comptait que huit enfants et Daniel était le plus jeune. Mais c'était formidable. Les membres du club se rencontraient après l'école une fois par semaine. C'est comme ça qu'il a commencé à jouer de la guitare.

— Est-ce que c'est un club de guitare? demande-t-il à André.

— Non, nous n'avons pas de club de guitare. Je fais partie d'un club de comédie qui s'appelle Fous rires. Ça commence dans dix minutes, ajoute-t-il en regardant sa montre.

Daniel regarde André. Il n'est pas sûr de savoir ce qu'est un club de comédie.

— Que faites-vous exactement? demande-t-il.

André explique que c'est un club où on se raconte des blagues et on fait d'autres choses amusantes. Parfois, les membres échangent des livres de devinettes. Parfois, ils regardent une vidéo amusante.

— La seule obligation est de raconter une blague ou une devinette chaque semaine, précise-t-il.

— Tu veux dire devant des gens? demande Daniel.

— Tu racontes la blague seulement aux membres du club, explique André. Pas devant toute l'école ou autre chose de ce genre.

Daniel a la gorge serrée. Il n'est pas question qu'il se lève et prenne la parole devant un tas d'enfants, même si ce club a l'air amusant. Évidemment, il adorait entendre des blagues et résoudre des devinettes. Il est bon à ce jeu. Mais raconter des blagues? La paume de ses mains est moite rien qu'à cette idée.

Il croise les doigts derrière son sac de raisins secs

L'école des apprentis magiciens

Upside-Down Magic

N° 3 – En scène!

#3: Showing Off

There are some people in school who want the kids in the Upside-Down Magic class to keep their magic a secret... or stop using it altogether. But that's not going to happen. Especially not with a big school-wide show coming up.

Nory isn't sure she has enough talent to be in a talent show. Pepper is worried that her abilities as a Fierce will make all the animals in town run wild. Elliot isn't sure what instrument to play when he freezes things he touches. And Carrot—well, Carrot is a talking rabbit who has some plans of her own.

In order to take the stage and make some magic, the Upside-Down Magic kids are going to have to band together... and find the right combination of talents to steal the show!

La maison des ombres

Shadow House

N° 1 - La rencontre

#1: The Gathering

Buildings have memories. Places bear scars. We've all had those moments—a chill in the air, a sense that something terrible once happened where we stand. But some houses are more than scary. They're hungry.

Larkspur House has lured five kids inside, and they're trapped. The five will have to look carefully—there are clues to the house's secrets scattered all over the grounds, and if they can figure out the past, it might show them a way out of their terrifying present. Will they stay strong enough to discover the house's weakness and escape? Or will the horrors of Larkspur House scare the five right out of their minds?

A brand-new trilogy full of creepy photos that brings Miss Peregrine's Home for Peculiar Children to a younger audience.

DAN POBLOCKI is the author of The Stone Child, The Nightmares, The Ghost of Graylock, The Haunting of Gabriel Ashe, The Book of Bad Things, and The Mysterious Four series. He lives in Brooklyn, New York.

So when a magnificent ship adorned with antlers arrives at the dock looking for a crew, Marco volunteers, hoping to find foxes who are as inquisitive as he is and can answer his questions. The crew finds adventure and intrigue on their journey. And, at last, Marco finds the answer to his most important question of all: What's the best way to find a friend you can talk to?

Dawn Schafer is the newest member of The Baby-Sitters Club. While she's still adjusting to life in Stoneybrook after moving from sunny California, she's eager to accept her first big job. But taking care of the three Barrett kids would be too much for any baby-sitter. The house is always a mess, the kids are out of control, and Mrs. Barrett never does any of the things she promises. On top of all that, Dawn wants to fit in with the other members of the BSC, but she can't figure out how to get along with Kristy... Was joining The Baby-Sitters Club a mistake?

ANN M. MARTIN'S Baby-Sitters Club is one of the most popular series in the history of publishing. She is also the author of Belle Teal, A Corner of the Universe (a Newbery Honor book), Here Today, and A Dog's Life. She lives in New York.

★ REVIEWS

“I've been a fan of Gale Galligan's work -- and Gale herself -- for years. She's a brilliant cartoonist, and BSC Graphix fans are in for a treat! Gale brings an amazing sense of whimsy, warmth, and humanity to everything she touches, and I couldn't be more thrilled to have her take the baton Ann M. Martin so graciously handed to me a decade ago. Get ready for more dibly-fresh Baby-sitters Club graphic novels, and get ready to say hello to Gale!”

La maison des merveilles

The Marvels

In his most intricate and ambitious work to date, Caldecott Award-winner Brian Selznick delivers a magnificent reinvention of his signature form.

Two seemingly unrelated stories—the first in pictures, the second in words—together create a beguiling narrative puzzle. The book opens with an uninterrupted illustrated story that sweeps us through five generations of a legendary family, beginning in 1766 with Billy Marvel. He survives a devastating shipwreck and grows up in a London theatre. There his progeny flourish as brilliant stage actors—until the youngest Marvel, Leontes, runs away into the fire of an unknown future.

A century later, Joseph Jervis, another outsider on the run, seeks refuge with an estranged uncle at his mysterious house in London, where ships and fires, theatre programs, and ghostly presences abound. Even more enigmatic is stormy Uncle Albert who won't answer Joseph's questions about the house or about an old photo of a boy whose eyes haunt Joseph. So Joseph sets out to solve the mysteries on his own... because his future may depend on it.

La cité de l'Oubli

The Forgetting

Seventeen-year-old Nadia lives in Canaan, a quiet city in an idyllic world, hemmed in by high walls that are constructed of a material no one in her town recognizes. Every twelve years, the people of Canaan undergo a collective Forgetting, in the days before which the town devolves into a chaos of bloody violence, and after which the people are left without any trace of memory of themselves, their families, their lives. Nadia has never forgotten, however.

As the next Forgetting approaches, Nadia is determined to find out what causes it and whether there is any way to stop it. With the help of Gray, the handsome glassblower's son, she discovers that there is a devious plot afoot... one that keeps the people of Canaan permanently subdued. Will Nadia be able to solve the mystery before the people forget the truth? And before Gray forgets her?

A remarkable story of memory and loss, love and indomitable courage.

SHARON CAMERON'S debut novel The Dark Unwinding was named an ALA Best Fiction for Young Adults selection. Sharon is also the author of its sequel, A Spark Unseen, and Rook, which was selected as an Indiebound Indie Next List Top Ten selection. She lives with her family in Nashville, Tennessee.

Eustache perd son panache

Wade's Wiggly Antlers

One winter morning while playing with his animal friends, a young moose named Wade notices his antlers are wiggly, and he runs home to tell his mother. Will he be able to find a way to stop his antlers from falling off? Or, if he just lets them go, would he find new ways to play?

In this charming picture book, author Louise Bradford has crafted a playful allegory for children about losing a first tooth. With Christine Battuz's amusing, exuberant art bringing Wade's story to life with sympathy as well as humour, this book makes an engaging and relatable read-aloud for story time. It provides terrific opportunities for discussions about how our bodies change as we grow up, what it feels like to go through these changes and the different ways we can celebrate the milestones.

LOUISE BRADFORD is a two-time recipient of the Canada Council for the Arts Artists and Community Collaboration grant for her filmmaking program with at-risk youth. Louise was born and raised in Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, and now lives in Ottawa, where she writes speeches for grown-ups.

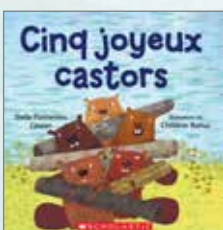

CHRISTINE BATTUZ was born in France and received her Masters of Fine Arts at the Academy of Fine Arts of Perugia in Italy. She has illustrated over sixty books for children, and has taught art to children of all ages. She lives in Bromont, Quebec.

#2: Broken Ground

Something ancient and evil has awoken from beneath the world of Erdas. Shrouded in shadow and older than memory, just a sliver of its power can destroy with a touch. Even the spirit animal bond, the sacred link between humans and animals that keeps Erdas in balance, is under threat.

Four young heroes, Conor, Abéké, Meilin, and Rollan, are determined to stop it. Together with their spirit animals, they embark on a desperate journey that takes them deep underground and to the far corners of the world. As friends and allies fall around them, the four have no choice but to push forward and confront this darkness. If they stop to look back, they'll see the truth: Evil already has them surrounded.

VICTORIA SCHWAB is the acclaimed author of several novels for young adults and adults, including The Archived and Vicious. Everyday Angel was her first series for middle-grade readers. Victoria lives in Nashville, Tennessee.
