Braids!

By Robert Munsch
Illustrated by Dave Whamond

More laugh-out-loud fun from bestselling author Robert Munsch!

It's Saturday morning and Ashley just wants to go outside and play. Who cares if her hair is messy? Mom does!

Ashley hates it when her mom puts braids in her hair. It looks nice when it's done, but she has to sit still for hours while her mom brushes and pulls and braids: back and forth, up and down, round and round. It takes ALLLL day, and Ashley never has time to do anything fun. That is, until Grandma comes for a visit, and they decide that it's time to braid MOM'S hair!

Robert Munsch is the father of two girls who did NOT like it when he put braids in their hair. This story will appeal to every kid who hates it when Mom or Dad fusses over their appearance!

ROBERT MUNSCH has written more than sixty books, including Makeup Mess, Moose! and Alligator Baby. His irreverent tales of childhood mischief, populated by diverse characters, have been loved by generations of children and their families, who have made him Canada's bestselling and best loved author. Robert lives in Guelph, Ontario. Visit him online at www.robertmunsch.com.

DAVE WHAMOND is the author of Oddrey (winner of the Blue Spruce Award). He also has a syndicated cartoon strip called Reality Check, which appears daily in a number of North American newspapers. Dave lives in Calgary, Alberta.

Underneath the Sidewalk

By Claire Eamer
Illustrated by Thomas Gibault

What lurks beneath the sidewalk cracks . . . ?

*Run, jump, spin round,
Skipping to the playground.
Skip, hop, jump, stop!
Crack in the sidewalk.
“Oh, no!”*

A girl takes care to step over the sidewalk cracks, but in a moment of distraction she falls through . . .

In rhythmic verse that begs to be read aloud, Underneath the Sidewalk combines humour, joy and just the right dose of spine-tingling fear as it explores the age-old childhood question of what would happen if you fell through the cracks in the sidewalk!

Children will delight in the breathtaking art that opens up worlds of imagination in this magical story of bravery, adventure and friendship.

CLAIRE EAMER was born in Saskatoon, Saskatchewan. For her work, she has won the Red Cedar Book Award, the Lane Anderson Award for Science Writing and the Science in Society book award. After living in Whitehorse, Yukon, for many years, Claire now lives on Gabriola Island in British Columbia. She is fascinated by science and natural history, and by the habitats that surround her. Visit her online at www.claireeamer.com.

THOMAS GIBAULT was born in Paris and studied illustration in France before moving to Canada. He now lives in Montreal, Quebec, where he spends his time creating marvellous illustrations and characters for children's books, magazines and animation series.

HELLO!

Praise for Nick Bland:

“This adorable, vocabulary-enriched story teaches young children the power of humility and consideration over pride and vanity.” (The Very Cranky Bear) —CM: Canadian Review of Materials

“It is very rhythmic in tone with funny twists of phrase that make you laugh and think at the same time.” (The Very Itchy Bear) —CM: Canadian Review of Materials

“The Very Hungry Bear is a pleasure to read and is one book I can see myself pulling out for story times again and again.” (The Very Hungry Bear) —CM: Canadian Review of Materials

Hello!

HELLO!

HELLO!

The Fabulous Friend Machine

By Nick Bland

Popcorn the chicken has found a Fabulous Friend Machine — and now she's going to have more friends than ever! What could go wrong?

When Popcorn, the friendliest chicken at Fiddlesticks Farm, finds a forgotten smartphone in the barn, she sets about making some brand new friends. Soon she is so busy sending messages to them that she begins to forget her old friends. When a meet-up with her new friends is about to end in disaster, the quick-thinking animals of Fiddlesticks Farm save the day . . . and one relieved chicken learns a lesson.

A cautionary tale from the bestselling creator of The Very Cranky Bear series.

NICK BLAND was born in the Yarra Valley of Australia. The son of an artist and a primary school teacher, he spent his early years on the farm where his parents lived. At age six, he moved with his family to “the bush”, where he dreamed of being a cartoonist and a writer from a very young age. He took a job at a bookstore, and decided to write and illustrate children's books. His first book, A Monster Wrote Me a Letter, was published in Australia in 2005. He currently lives in Darwin, Australia and works full time as an author and illustrator.

The New Baby Calf

By Edith Newlin Chase
Illustrated by Barbara Reid

First published in 1984, this heartwarming story about a new baby calf's first seasons, and the mother cow that loves him through all of his first steps, is a true Canadian classic. It has the added distinction of being the first book to feature the award-winning Plasticine artwork style of Barbara Reid!

Now, with a fresh new cover design, Edith Newlin Chase's beautiful poem can be introduced to a new generation of mothers and babies, celebrating the simple, unconditional nature of parental love.

EDITH NEWLIN CHASE was born in 1905 and raised as a Quaker on an Indiana farm, where she milked cows every day. She wrote The New Baby Calf as a poem in the late '30s, and said: "It came to me clearly and rapidly as I worked at housekeeping, and if I remember right, it required no revision." It was first published in a book for pre-school children in 1945, where, many years later, it was discovered by Scholastic's then director of publishing. Ms. Chase passed away in 2004.

BARBARA REID is a critically acclaimed Canadian author and illustrator, well known to children, parents, and teachers alike for her timeless stories and vibrant Plasticine illustrations. Barb has received every major Canadian children's book award, including the Governor General's Award. She was also named to the Order of Canada in 2013. Barbara lives in Toronto, Ontario. Have You Seen Birds?

By Joanne Oppenheim
Illustrated by Barbara Reid

A band, a flight, a flock of birds — the world is full of lots of birds!

Spring, summer, autumn and winter birds; woodland, meadow, sea and marsh birds — all are brought to life in lively, lyrical prose and rich Plasticine illustration. Colour and movement abound in every word and every detail, making each bird memorable.

A timely reissue of a celebrated picture book that reminds us to respect our natural world.

Praise for Barbara Reid:

- Winner, UNICEF Ezra Jack Keats International Award, 1988
- Winner, Canada Council Prize for Children's Literature, 1986
- Winner, Ruth Schwartz Award for Children's Literature, 1987

"With her inimitable style, Barbara Reid has created a Christmas treat to be savoured and shared over and over." — (The Night Before Christmas) National Reading Campaign

★ "Readers will marvel at the amazing details...a special book indeed."
— (Picture a Tree) Kirkus Reviews, starred review

JOANNE OPPENHEIM has written over forty books, including The Christmas Witch; Kids & Play; Buy Me, Buy Me, Buy Me; Have You Seen Dogs?; and Have You Seen Bugs? With other members of her family she has created a company that publishes books on the most successful toys for children called the Oppenheim Toy Portfolio. Joanne is one of today's most trusted authorities on child development and education. She lives in New York.

Never Let You Go

By Patricia Storms

Now available in board book format!

In this tender, funny book, an adorable penguin learns that Mom or Dad “will never let you go” . . . except when it is time to let you go. Safely assured by the steadfast love of a parent, the little penguin can begin to explore its world bit by bit — draw a picture, chase the stars, even throw a tantrum — secure in the knowledge that a doting parent is always waiting in the wings.

Gently affirming, this book is the perfect addition to a nursery and toddler bookshelf, as it gives voice to all of the sweet sentiments parents wish to share, as their babies take their first big steps on the path of growing up.

Praise for Never Let You Go:

- Ontario Library Association’s Best Bets of Canadian Literature for Children and Teens, 2013

“Wry humour imbues both text and art, ably displaying the parent’s unremitting connection to the child alongside its recognition that the youngster must be allowed room to grow.”

—Quill & Quire

“This is a cuddle-up-and-read book that is sure to evoke laughter and hugs.”
—National Reading Campaign

“[It] balances a parent’s desire to keep children close with a gentle reminder to also let them chase the stars. A perfect present for any new little penguin.”

—CM: Canadian Review of Materials

“A very reassuring message of love . . . This is an excellent book to share with toddlers and preschoolers.”—Resource Links

Pig the Pug

By Aaron Blabey

This hilarious cautionary tale about a greedy pug who must learn to share is now available as a board book.

*Pig was a pug,
and I'm sorry to say,
he was greedy and selfish,
in most every way . . .*

Meet the greediest pug in the world! Pig is ill-tempered, rude and unreasonable. He lives in a flat with Trevor the sausage dog, who would like nothing better than to play with his toys. But when Trevor asks Pig if he will share them, Pig replies, "They're mine. GO AWAY!"

In a fit of greediness, he gathers all of his toys into one great big pile and climbs to the top. What happens next teaches Pig a very big lesson in the perils of not sharing. It also provides some very big laughs for the reader!

A bestselling sensation in his native Australia, Aaron Blabey's Pig the Pug series is teaching lessons (in the most humorous way) to Canadian readers too!

Praise for Aaron Blabey:

"This hilarious romp will tickle the funny book of kids of all ages." (Pig the Pug)
—Resource Links

"Thanks to the genius of the illustrations and the humour of the prose, Aaron Blabey's Pig the Fibber is a joy for all ages . . . Highly recommended"
(Pig the Fibber) —CM: Canadian Review of Materials

". . . an excellent modern fable." (Thelma the Unicorn) —The Globe and Mail

AARON BLABEY was a successful actor for 15 years, as well as an artist, before becoming an author and illustrator of children's books. He is the creator of Pig the Pug, Pig the Winner, Thelma the Unicorn, and the chapter book series The Bad Guys. Aaron was a National Literacy Ambassador for Australia. He lives in Sydney, Australia with his wife and two sons. Visit him online at www.aaronblabeybooks.com.

On days when our tummies rumbled, we whispered our favourite foods to each other. My mother learned to catch fish with just a line and a hook.

At night, my mother sang to me and played with my hair.

By day, my mother told me stories of home.

Out

By Angela May George
Illustrated by Owen Swan

A little girl and her mother have fled their homeland, making the long and treacherous journey to find a new place to call home.

We came here on a boat. Our trip took so long, sometimes I wondered if I would ever walk on grass again.

A brave little girl and her mother escape a war-torn land. On the difficult sea voyage there is little to eat, but there is abundant love and caring. Her adopted country offers a safe place to live, a new school, and supportive friends. There are also hurtful labels, flashbacks, and the ever-present ache of a missing father. Over time there's a new job for her mother, time for play, music — even dancing! — and hope for the future.

Timely, powerful and moving, Out celebrates the resilience of the human spirit in the darkest times, and the many paths people take to build a new life.

As a child, ANGELA MAY GEORGE loved Alice in Wonderland and Anne of Green Gables, as well as stories with mythical creatures. She lives in Sydney, Australia with her three children and her Polish-born husband. Out is Angela May George's debut picture book.

OWEN SWAN grew up in country New South Wales. He has been inspired and influenced by Maurice Sendak, Arthur Rackham and Ron Brooks. Owen Swan has been part of several exhibitions in Australia and abroad and has illustrated several picture books.

Summer's End

By Joel A. Sutherland

One terrifying summer can stay with you forever.

It's the summer before high school and Jacob and his friends are determined to make it a memorable one. This may be the last couple of months they have together; once school starts, they'll be going their separate ways. Ichiro's family is moving to Japan. And while Jacob and the twins, Hayden and Hannah, are staying behind in Valetton, they'll be going to different high schools. When they discover an old abandoned home on a remote island of their Muskoka community, things suddenly take an unexpected turn. The kids find themselves inexplicably drawn to the house that had once been a sanatorium for children with tuberculosis, and learn that it has some haunting secrets to hide.

The Little Knight Who Battled a Dragon

By Gilles Tibo
Illustrated by Geneviève Després

A brave little knight realizes that the best way to tame a beast is to find the source of its pain.

In a curious kingdom built on top of a forest lives a little knight. His life is carefree. During the day, he has fun training flies. At night, he relaxes in a hammock, befriendng the bats.

But one day the village falls under the shadow of a dragon and our hero must set off to fight the fearsome beast. When he finds the dragon, however, the little knight sees that what's needed to save the day is a dose of kindness.

This third installment in the Little Knight series is a charming and witty tale with timely themes of friendship and compassion.

GILLES TIBO has written and illustrated more than a hundred children's books. His Nicholas series with Bruno St-Aubin has been highly successful in both French and English. Gilles is a two-time winner of the Governor General's Award and the Mr. Christie's Book Award, and a two-time nominee for the Hans Christian Andersen Prize. He lives in Montreal, Quebec.

GENEVIÈVE DESPRÉS is a four-time Applied Arts Illustration Award winner. She has illustrated many French picture books, as well as the English books The Highest Number in the World and Best Friend Trouble. Geneviève lives in Saint-Lambert, on the south shore of Montreal. Her website is www.genevievedespres.ca.

Excerpt from Bounced:

"My career as a detective started with a bad bounce, so maybe I should start there. I'd gone with my friends Zal and CC to the Fidelity Bank on 3rd Avenue. Zal needed to get some birthday money out for a new ball glove, an Arturo Rocinante infielder's model — from Good Sports, in the next block".

The ATMs were down so he was in line with a lot of others, waiting for a teller. It was a hot Saturday in June, and the bank was air-conditioned, so to tell the truth, I didn't care that dead turtles probably moved faster than Zal's line.

I was no stranger to banks; my Aunt Jenn, who I lived with, used to be a teller at one. CC had gone to a variety store to get a Popsicle. I waited in the cool inside the bank, by a table with free coffee laid on, passing the time with Zal's bouncy ball. That ball was pretty zingy, and even though I was being careful with it, just making little tosses, it got away from me and rabbited off across the bank's polished floor.

I spun after it and smacked head-first into the middle of someone striding toward the front doors. It was a soft middle. I grabbed the guy in a one-way hug to keep from falling over. He gave a little oof of surprise and we danced around for a second, my head in the armpit of his blue coat. I smelled the laundry soap they use on clothes you buy from the Goodwill and glimpsed a green and white tote bag from a local grocery in a gloved hand. Then he shook me off, and I stumbled on, yelping "Sorry!" He was out the doors almost before I could turn around. I caught a glimpse of blue coat and ball cap behind people coming in, the guy kind of hunched over as if I'd hurt him. "Sorry," I called again, which was pretty useless.

A lady with a bulldog frown handed me back the bouncy ball. I was slinking back to my spot when another lady, with a name tag, strode past me with a set of keys and locked the doors. Turning to everyone she announced: "Sorry folks, no cause for alarm, but we've just been robbed . . ."

Bounced

By Ted Staunton

A detective story with as many laughs as there are twists and turns, from award-winning author Ted Staunton!

In the beginning, it was simple: I wanted to be a detective, and I needed something to detect . . .

Thirteen-year-old Duncan lives with his unconventional, bohemian aunt. She's determined to give him an expensive private education, even though Duncan isn't particularly interested in school. He wants to be a detective like the ones in World's Best 100 Detective Stories, which he reads when he should be studying.

Fortunately for Duncan (and readers!), he gets something to detect in the first chapter of this funny crime mystery. Full of twists and turns and laugh-out-loud adventure, this highly entertaining story will have readers wondering if they've solved the mystery (and most likely they haven't) until the last page turn.

Ted Staunton ratchets up the fun in this fast-paced romp, loosely based on a true story from Texas in the early 2000s.

TED STAUNTON is the beloved author of many books for young people, from long-time picture book favourite Puddleman to young adult novels, including Jump Cut and Who I'm Not, which won the John Spray Mystery Award. Over the years he has performed and led writing workshops everywhere from Inuvik to Addis Ababa. When not writing stories, Ted writes music and plays in the Maple Leaf Champions Jug Band. Ted lives with his family in Port Hope, Ontario.

Upside-Down Magic #3: Showing Off

By Sarah Mlynowski; Lauren Myracle; and Emily Jenkins

The third entry in this offbeat series about a group of magical misfits.

Upside-Down Magic is shaking up the school!

The kids in Upside-Down Magic know their magic is a little out of control. But that doesn't make them weird — it only makes them human. When things get messy, it's up to Nory, Bax and their friends to find their way out of trouble before something really wacky happens.

SARAH MLYNOWSKI is the New York Times bestselling author of the Whatever After series, the Magic in Manhattan series, and the Upside-Down Magic series, which she is cowriting with Lauren Myracle and Emily Jenkins. Originally from Montreal, Sarah now lives in the kingdom of Manhattan with her very own Prince Charming and their fairy tale-loving daughters. Visit Sarah online at www.sarahm.com and find her on Instagram, Facebook, and Twitter at @sarahmlynowski.

LAUREN MYRACLE is the author of many popular books for teens and tweens, including the New York Times bestsellers TTYL and TFN. She lives with her family in Fort Collins, Colorado.

EMILY JENKINS is a New York Times bestselling author. Her middle-grade fiction includes Toys Go Out, Toy Dance Party, and Toys Come Home; her picture books include Lemonade in Winter, That New Animal and Skunkdog; and as E. Lockhart, she's the author of The Disreputable History of Frankie Landau-Banks and We Were Liars.

The Juvie Three

By Gordon Korman

Gecko doesn't want to go back to juvenile detention . . . and he'll do whatever it takes to make sure that doesn't happen!

Graham "Gecko" Fosse wasn't actually doing the robbery . . . he didn't even know it was going down. He was just the driver of the getaway car. But that doesn't keep him out of juvenile detention — the worst place he's ever been.

So when do-gooder Douglas Healy shows up with a plan to put Gecko in a halfway house with two other young offenders, he jumps at the chance, even if it does mean he has to share a New York City apartment with Healy, 15-year-old killer Arjay Moran, and Terence Florian, who is always checking out the angles. The three teens have to stay in school, out of trouble and on the good side of hard-assed caseworker Ms. Vaughn, or it's back to the slammer for them all. Which is easier said than done, since Terence seems bent on getting himself in trouble at any opportunity . . .

If Gecko is out of jail, why does his life just seem to be getting worse?

Bestselling author Gordon Korman uses his usual humour in The Juvie Three, but adds a suspenseful edge that will keep readers rooting for the boys right through to the end!

GORDON KORMAN is the bestselling author of more than 70 books for young adult and middle grade readers. His YA titles include Don't Care High, A Semester in the Life of a Garbage Bag, Losing Joe's Place and Pop. His middle grade books include This Can't Be Happening at Macdonald Hall (published when he was fourteen), Slacker, Ungifted, I Want to Go Home, Schooled and The Hypnotists and Swindle series. He lives in New York with his family and can be found on the web at gordonkorman.com.

Exo

By Fonda Lee

The fight for the future begins.

It's been a century of peace since Earth became a colony of an alien race with far reaches into the galaxy. Some die-hard extremists still oppose their rule on Earth, but Donovan Reyes isn't one of them. His dad holds the prestigious position of Prime Liaison, and Donovan's high social standing along with his exocel (a remarkable alien technology fused to his body) guaranteed him a bright future in the security forces. That is, until a routine patrol goes awry and Donovan's abducted by the human revolutionary group Sapience, determined to end alien control.

When Sapience realizes whose son Donovan is, they think they've found the ultimate bargaining chip. But the Prime Liaison doesn't negotiate with terrorists, not even for his own son. Left in the hands of terrorists who have more uses for him dead than alive, the fate of Earth rests on Donovan's survival. Because if Sapience kills him, it could spark another intergalactic war. And Earth didn't win the last one . . .

FONDA LEE is the author of Zeroboxer, which was an Andre Norton Award finalist, a Junior Library Guild selection, and an ALA Top Ten Quick Pick for Reluctant Young Adult Readers. Making Bombs for Hitler

By Marsha Forchuk Skrypuch

The companion book to the award-winning Stolen Child— now in a hardcover edition!

Lida thought she was safe. Yes, her neighbors wearing the yellow star were all taken away, but Lida and her family are not Jewish. They will be fine, won't they?

But Lida cannot escape the horrors of World War II.

She loses her parents, and is ripped away from her beloved sister, Larissa. The Nazis take Lida to a brutal work camp, where she and other Ukrainian children are forced into backbreaking labour. Starving and terrified, Lida bonds with her fellow prisoners, but none of them know if they'll live to see tomorrow.

When Lida and her friends are assigned to make bombs for the German army, Lida cannot stand the thought of helping the enemy. Then she has an idea. What if she sabotaged the bombs . . . and the Nazis? Can she do so without getting caught?

And if she's freed, will she ever find her sister again?

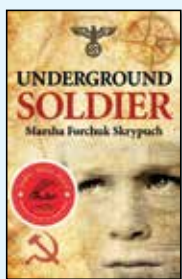

This pulse-pounding novel of survival, courage, and hope shows us a lesser-known piece of history—and is sure to keep readers captivated until the last page.

One Thousand Hills

By James Roy and Noël Zihambamwe

A heart-wrenching story of how one young boy's life was forever changed during the Rwandan genocide.

Agabande, Rwanda, April 1994. Life is simple but good. Pascal and his brother go to school with their friends, their parents work hard, their little sister is growing up, and on Sunday almost everyone they know goes to church to thank God for his goodness. But lately, there have been whispers and suspicious glances around town, and messages of hate on the radio, and people are leaving . . . Then, in one awful night, Pascal's ordinary life in the land of one thousand hills is turned upside down.

One Thousand Hills is an important story of the awful consequences of unfettered prejudice in the modern world, as told by a survivor.

JAMES ROY was born in western New South Wales and spent much of his childhood in Papua New Guinea and Fiji, adventuring by day and reading books at night. James has written a number of critically acclaimed works of fiction and non-fiction for young people, including the CBCA Honour Books Captain Mack and Billy Mack's War, and six CBCA Notable Books. James lives with his family in the Blue Mountains.

NOËL ZIHAMBAMWE was born in Rwanda and was orphaned after the Rwandan genocide. He later immigrated to Australia, where he attended university, earning a Bachelor of Social Welfare and International Social Development, and a Masters of Policy and Applied Social Research degree. Noël has great passion for disadvantaged communities, and is particularly committed to assisting new refugees and migrant communities in areas of settlement, capacity building, education and employment. He lives with his young family in southwest Sydney, Australia.

Excerpt from The Vimy Oaks: A Journey to Peace

“Our march [in France] led up the side of a valley, the slope heavily wooded with grand old elms, beeches, chestnuts...The trees were all in rows skirting the road, or in groves, evidently planted there many years ago. To see the beauty of these splendid groves both from the inside and as a part of the general landscape was sufficient evidence to convince anyone of the wisdom of planting trees.”

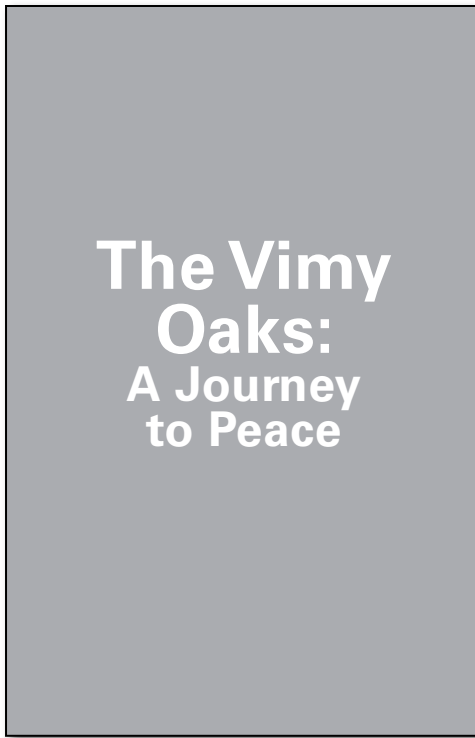

—Private Leslie H. Miller, October 1915

The Vimy Oaks:
A Journey to Peace
By Linda Granfield
Illustrated by Brian Deines

An act of hope and renewal amidst the destruction of war provides a living memorial, in time for the 100th anniversary of the Battle of Vimy Ridge.

Imagine a young soldier standing in the midst of a landscape ravaged by war, pocketing a handful of acorns from the blasted trees, and posting them home. In April 1917, after the Battle at Vimy Ridge, Leslie H. Miller — a teacher, a farmer, and a soldier with the Canadian Expeditionary Force — did just that. Over the following one hundred years, those acorns became majestic oaks, standing at the site of Miller's family farm in Ontario.

Vimy Ridge is considered Canada's greatest First World War victory, although its toll was devastating. This moving book, filled with beautiful artwork and archival photos, contextualizes a Canadian soldier's experience in the Great War while highlighting this extraordinary gesture of hope and renewal. Now, a century later, the results of this simple act have created a living memorial to those who served.

In April 2017, seedlings from these oaks will be repatriated to their original territory at Vimy Ridge in France as part of the ceremonies to mark Canada's contribution to the war.

LINDA GRANFIELD is a bestselling non-fiction author, with over forty awards and honours to her credit. Countdown to Danger: Bullet Train Disaster

By Jack Heath

30 dangerous paths. 30 minutes to escape.
YOU choose the path to survive!

You are strapped tightly into your seat on the bullet train. As it accelerates to top speed, a passenger slips out of his seat and begins to fall towards the back of the train. Do you unstrap yourself to save him, or do you stay in your seat?

This is a thrilling, action-packed survival choose your own adventure. Choose wrong and risk being: bitten by monster ticks, squashed by a train, buried in an avalanche, transported into the past, run over by bandits, locked in a room by secret ops, zapped by a giant transformer, eaten by a bear, trapped in a sealed-off cave, or squashed by a train (among other unpleasant ends). Choose well—join the bandits and escape the avalanche by helicopter, or snowboard on scraps of wood to safety just ahead of the lava flow—and live to read another day.

Countdown to Danger: Shockwave

By Jack Heath

30 dangerous paths. 30 minutes to escape.
YOU choose the path to survive!

You are swimming through the ocean when an explosion rips out from the shoreline and a massive wave flings you close to a giant shark. The shark is stunned, but alive. You don't have much time, and you need to get to shore. Do you keep swimming or do you climb onto the shark's back and try to surf to shore?

This is an edge-of-your-seat, seat-of-your-pants survival story. Make the wrong choice and risk being: eaten by a crocodile, flattened by a boulder, buried in sand, dragged into treetops while floating in a hot air balloon (made out of tents), crushed by a falling oil platform, swept away by a tsunami, overrun by zombies, flattened by a gum tree or the first to discover the blue wire was not the correct one to cut. Choose cleverly—escape by hovercraft, or by cutting the red wire instead—and live to choose your next awesome adventure.

JACK HEATH is the author of the Countdown to Danger series and sixteen other action-packed thrillers for young people, which have been shortlisted for multiple awards and published in several languages around the world. In the course of his research he has trained with firearms, performed street magic, visited morgues and prisons and travelled through Russia. When he's not touring schools, libraries and festivals around the world, he lives in Gunghalin, Australia.
