Malaika's Costume

A heartwarming story about family, community and the celebration of Carnival, Nadia Hohn's warm and colloquial language and Irene Luxbacher's vibrant collage-style illustrations make this a strikingly original picture book.

NADIA L. HOHN is a writer, musician and educator. The manuscript of Le costume de Malaika, her first picture book, won the Helen Isobel Sissons Canadian Children's Story Award. She lives in Toronto, where she teaches French, music and the arts at an alternative elementary school.

Thunder Boy Jr.

Thunder Boy Jr. is named after his dad, but he wants a name that's all his own. Just because people call his dad Big Thunder doesn't mean he wants to be Little Thunder. He wants a name that celebrates something cool he's done, like Touch the Clouds, Not Afraid of Ten Thousand Teeth, or Full of Wonder.

But just when Thunder Boy Jr. thinks all hope is lost, he and his dad pick the perfect name . . . a name that is sure to light up the sky.

A National Book Award-winning author, poet, and filmmaker, SHERMAN ALEXIE is one of the most well-known and beloved literary writers of his generation. His works of fiction, including The Absolutely True Diary of a Part-Time Indian, Reservation Blues, and The Lone Ranger and Tonto Fistfight in Heaven, have received numerous awards and citations. She is the winner of several awards, including a Pura Belpré Medal and a Caldecott Honor for Viva Frida. Yuyi divides her time between Mexico and California.

À quoi servent les dents?

Les dents servent à mordre dans la nourriture. Nous mâchons aussi les aliments avec les dents pour les avaler plus facilement. Il faut se brosser les dents régulièrement pour les garder propres et saines.

De bonnes dents permettent de croquer dans des aliments durs, comme du pain avec une croûte dure.

Activité

Examine tes dents à l'aide d'un miroir. Combien de dents as-tu? Y a-t-il des espaces entre elles?

Nous utilisons aussi nos dents quand nous parlons, surtout les dents de devant. Essaie de dire le mot « favori » sans que tes dents de devant touchent la lèvre inférieure.

Les dents aident faire les sons « f » et « v ».

Dear Canada

Les mots qu'il me reste

Violette Pesheens, pensionnaire à l'école résidentielle, Nord de l'Ontario, 1966

These Are My Words

The Residential School Diary of Violet Pesheens

Acclaimed author Ruby Slipperjack delivers a haunting novel about a 12-year-old girl's experience at a Residential School in 1966.

Violette Pesheens is struggling to adjust to her new life at Residential School. She misses her Grandma; she has run-ins with Cree girls; at her "white" school, everyone just stares; and everything she brought has been taken from her, including her name — she is now just a number. But worst of all, she has a fear. A fear of forgetting the things she treasures most: her Anishnabe language; the names of those she knew before; and her traditional customs. A fear of forgetting who she was.

Her notebook is the one place she can record all of her worries, and heartbreaks, and memories. And maybe, just maybe there will be hope at the end of the tunnel.

Drawing from her own experiences at Residential School, Ruby Slipperjack creates a brave, yet heartbreaking heroine in Violette, and lets young readers glimpse into an all-too important chapter in our nation's history.

RUBY SLIPPERJACK was born in Whitewater Lake, Ontario. She learned traditional stories and crafts from her family. In the 1960s she attended a Residential School in northern Ontario for most of a year, and later, high school in Thunder Bay. She has written 5 novels for middle grade and teen readers: Dog Tracks, Little Voice, Silent Words, Weesquachak, and Honour the Sun, and indigenous story contributions to the Dear Canada anthologies Hoping for Home: Stories of Arrival and A Time for Giving. Ruby lives in Thunder Bay, Ontario.

★ REVIEWS

Je ne suis pas un numéro

I Am Not a Number

When eight-year-old Irene is removed from her First Nations family to live in a residential school she is confused, frightened, and terribly homesick. She tries to remember who she is and where she came from despite the nuns' efforts to force her to do otherwise. When she goes home for summer holidays, her parents decide to never send her away again, but where will she hide and what will happen when her parents disobey the law? Based on the life of Jenny Kay Dupuis' own grandmother, Je ne suis pas un numéro is a must-read book that brings a terrible part of Canada's history to light in a way that children can learn from and relate to.

JENNY KAY DUPUIS is an Anishinaabe/Ojibway who is a proud member of Nipissing First Nation. She is an educator, researcher, artist, and speaker who works full-time supporting the advancement of Indigenous education. Jenny's interest in her family's past and her commitment to teaching Indigenous issues through literature drew her to co-write Je ne suis pas un numéro, her first children's book. She lives in Toronto.

KATHY KACER is well known for her children's books about the Holocaust, including The Secret of Gabi's Dresser and The Magician of Auschwitz. Her books have won many awards, including the Silver Birch, the Red Maple, the Hackmatack, and the Jewish Book Award. A former psychologist, Kathy now travels the globe speaking to children and adults about her books. Kathy lives in Toronto with her family.

GILLIAN NEWLAND is an artist who lives and works in Toronto. In addition to illustrating a number of picture books, her artwork can be seen on several young adult novels and in magazines. She has won the Ruth Schwartz Award and been nominated for the Lane Anderson Award.

— Ne m'obligez pas à y retourner! Je vous en prie! suppliai-je mes parents.

J'avais commencé à leur raconter ce qui était réellement passé dans cette école. Les yeux de mon père s'étaient assombriés quand j'avais décrit les « leçons » de sœur Mary. Ma mère s'était bouchée les oreilles, incapable de m'écouter.

— Je dois trouver un moyen de vous garder ici, déclara mon père. Il nous faut un plan.

Je serrai les poings. Où? Un plan? Mais lequel?

— Si nous désobéissions, que nous feront-ils? demanda ma mère.

— Qu'ils fassent ce qu'ils veulent, rétorqua mon père. Nous ne reverrons pas nos enfants dans cet endroit. Nous les cachérons. Nous ferons en sorte que l'agent ne puisse pas les trouver.

Tout le monde se mit à parler en même temps. Nous pourrions nous cacher dans les chambres à l'étage. Mais l'agent fouillerait dans tous les coins pour nous trouver. Nous pourrions nous cacher derrière la maison. Mais il nous repérerait facilement. Nous pourrions courir jusqu'au lac et nous dissimuler dans les roseaux. Mais non. Ils s'en venaient pas assez denses pour nous cacher.

Puis mon père fit une suggestion :

— Vous pourriez vous cacher dans mon atelier.

Mon père avait un atelier de taxidermie sur notre terrain, assez près pour qu'on puisse courir s'y réfugier, mais séparé de la maison. Cela suffirait-il? L'atelier de papa nous fournirait-il la protection dont nous avions besoin? Je regardai mes frères et mes parents. Nous hochâmes la tête en guise d'acquiescement tacite. Un pacte silencieux. Nous avions un plan. Et l'été s'échouerait...

Quand le jour fatidique arriva, j'étais dans la cour en train d'aider ma mère à étendre le linge. Le vent soufflait mes cheveux dans ma figure. Ils avaient repoussé. Bientôt, ils atteindraient mon dos.

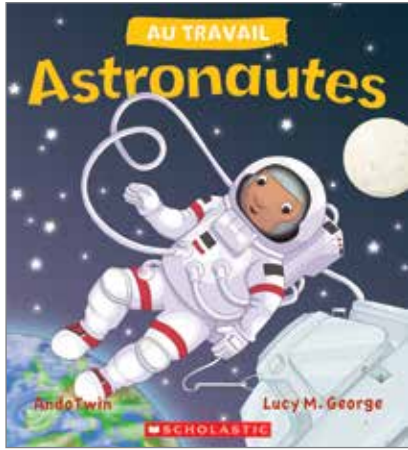

— Il s'en vient! cria ma sœur aînée.

Je laissai tomber le panier à linge et risquai un coup d'œil sur le côté de la maison. Il était là. Mon ravisseur.

Le petit chevalier qui affrontait les dragons

The Little Knight Who Battled a Dragon

In a curious kingdom built on top of a forest lives a little knight. His life is carefree. During the day, he has fun training flies. At night, he relaxes in a hammock, befriending the bats.

But one day the village falls under the shadow of a dragon and our hero must set off to fight the fearsome beast. When he finds the dragon, however, the little knight sees that what's needed to save the day is a dose of kindness.

This third installment in the Little Knight series is a charming and witty tale with timely themes of friendship and compassion. The wonderful scenes depicted by Geneviève Després are full of humorous details to pull readers into the story.

GILLES TIBO has written and illustrated more than a hundred children's books. He is a two-time winner of the Governor General's Award and the Mr. Christie's Book Award, and a two-time nominee for the Hans Christian Andersen Prize. He lives in Montreal, Quebec.

GENEVIÈVE DESPRÉS completed a degree in Industrial Design at the Université de Montréal in 1992, but, around 1997, she decided to pursue her first passion, drawing. She turned to illustration, completing a number of contracts in the fields of educational publishing, advertising, editorial, and children's literature.

L'aventure sous le trottoir

Underneath the Sidewalk

A girl takes care to step over the sidewalk cracks, but in a moment of distraction she falls through... In rhythmic verse that begs to be read aloud, L'aventure sous le trottoir explores the age-old childhood question of what would happen if you fell through the cracks in the sidewalk. It does so with humour, joy and just the right dose of spine-tingling fear. Children will delight in the dark and monsters depicted and the opportunity to face fears and overcome them, while making interesting new friends along the way.

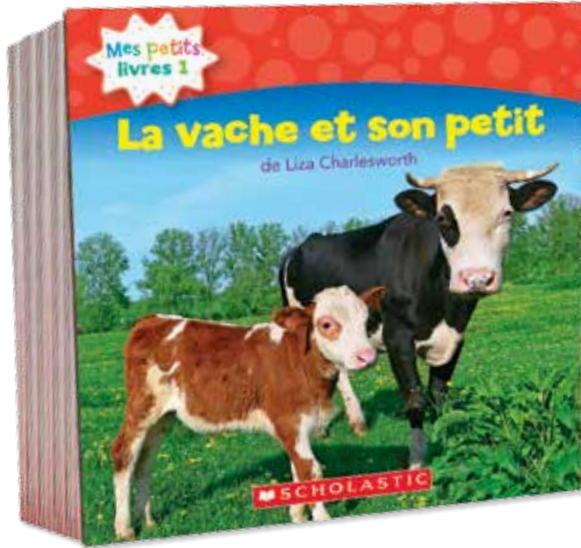

Breathtaking art opens up worlds of imagination in this magical story of bravery, adventure and friendship.

L'histoire des chênes de Vimy

Seeds of Peace: The Story of Vimy Oaks

The images from World War I of death, ravaged landscapes and decimated villages are hauntingly familiar. Imagine a young soldier standing in the midst of that horror and destruction pocketing a handful of acorns from the blasted trees and posting them home. That's exactly what Lieutenant Leslie H. Miller, a teacher, farmer and soldier with the Canadian Expeditionary Force, did after the battle at Vimy Ridge in April 1917. Over the following one hundred years, those acorns became majestic oaks, standing at the site of Miller's family farm in Ontario. In April 2017, seedlings from these oaks will be repatriated to their original territory at Vimy Ridge in France as part of the ceremonies to mark Canada's contribution to the War.

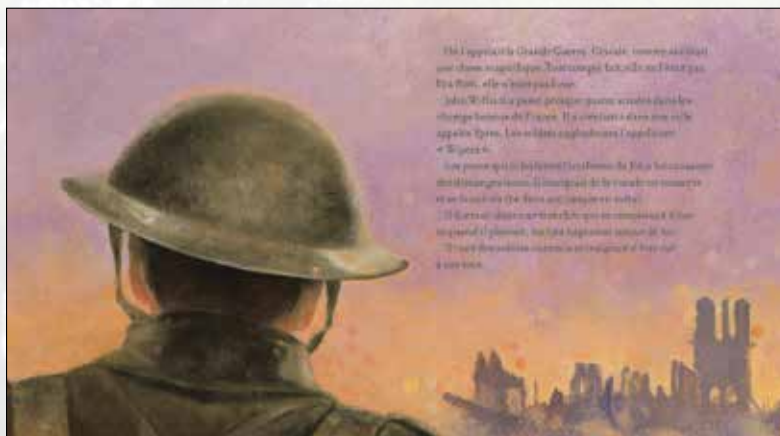

The Battle at Vimy Ridge took a devastating toll but it is regarded as Canada's greatest World War I victory, both on the battlefield and in terms of Canada's birth as a nation. The story of one ordinary soldier's quiet but extraordinary act, an almost unimaginable gesture of hope and renewal at the time, serves a century later as a living memorial to those who served.

LINDA GRANFIELD is the author of nearly thirty non-fiction titles for young readers and adults. She has received more than forty honours/awards for books that cover themes such as war, immigration, slavery and elections. Her books published with Scholastic Canada are Le soldat inconnu, an OLA Best Bet, and Sur la route de l'Afghanistan, shortlisted for the Libris and Shining Willow awards. Linda lives in Toronto.

BRIAN DEINES is an acclaimed children's book illustrator who has been nominated for the Governor General's Award for Illustration, the Ruth and Sylvia Schwartz Award and the Lillian Shepherd Memorial Award, among others. He has illustrated such varied titles as Hockey sur le lac, Sur la route de l'Afghanistan and Une belle soirée de hockey. A native of Red Deer, Alberta, Brian now lives in Toronto.

Excusez-moi!

Pardon me!

It's a beautiful, sunny day in the swamp when a little yellow bird settles down on a rock—only to be interrupted as first a heron, then a frog, then a turtle ask to sit on the rock with him. As each animal says "pardon me," the little bird's replies get grumpier. When a fox comes by, the bird finally loses his cool. But it just so happens that fox showed up for a reason, and the little bird's outburst leads to a surprise ending you'll want to read again and again.

DANIEL MIYARES has illustrated books such as Bambino and Mr. Twain and Waking Up is Hard to Do. Excusez-moi! was his first adventure as an author/illustrator, followed by Float. He earned a BFA in illustration from Ringling College of Art and Design in 2002 and has since worked for Hallmark Cards Inc. Daniel currently lives near Kansas City.

Stop Feedin' da Boids!

When Swanda moves from the countryside to Brooklyn, she misses the wildlife she left behind. But not for long... The first time she steps onto her balcony she sees a flock of birds and decides to buy them a birdfeeder.

But this is the city, and where there's food, there are pigeons. Blinded by her love of nature, Swanda keeps feeding the birds, while her neighbours become increasingly annoyed by the messy and noisy pigeons. Will the peace be restored?

Playful text and humorous, vibrant illustrations make this a terrific read-aloud!

Raconte-moi les graphiques L'histoire de William Playfair

Lines, Bars and Circles: How William Playfair Invented Graphics

Born in Scotland over 250 years ago, William Playfair was a dreamer who saw the world differently from other people. Unfortunately, this skill didn't easily translate into the fame and fortune he hoped for. In fact, it often got him in trouble with family, friends and bosses. But Will's innovative vision did inspire a big idea that would set him apart: he turned numbers into pictures by creating line graphs, bar graphs and pie charts! Numbers as pictures? There's an idea that's off the charts!

HELAINE BECKER has written many laugh-out-loud funny books for children, including the bestselling Un porc-épic dans un sapin et Vive le vent d'hiver! She is extremely active in the world of children's literature, in addition to being a swimmer, cyclist, runner, and read-aholic. Helaine lives in Toronto, Ontario.

MARIE-ÈVE TREMBLAY is an illustrator living in Montreal, Quebec. Books she has illustrated include La vengeresse masquée et le Loup, as well as the interactive board books series Lift-the-Flap Questions and Answers.

After taking down the villains of Ducard Academy the previous year, going back to life on the farm was a bit dull. Better yet, his friends Bruce and Diana have been invited there, too! What better way to spend spring break than with old friends (Poison Ivy, Harley Quinn) and new ones like Arthur Curry (Aquaman), Barry Allen (the Flash), and Vic Stone (Cyborg)? When Clark arrives at Camp Evergreen, he makes new friends, and reconnects with old ones, and nothing seems weird at all! Well, that is until kids start disappearing ... One by one ... Plus, there's a lake monster, bigfoot has been spotted, there are reports of a boogeyman, and there may or may not be a UFO crashed into the lake. Les Loteau plus un

The Lottery's Plus One

The bestselling author of the adult novel Room bursts onto the children's book scene with this cross between Little Miss Sunshine, Cheaper by the Dozen, and Modern Family.

Sumac Lottery is nine years old and the self-proclaimed "good girl" of her (VERY) large, (EXTREMELY) unruly family. And what a family the Lotterys are: four parents, children both adopted and biological, and a menagerie of pets, all living and learning together in a sprawling house called Camelottery. Then one day, the news breaks that one of their grandfathers is suffering from dementia and will be coming to live with them. And not just any grandfather: the long dormant "Grumps," who fell out with his son so long ago that he hasn't been part of any of their lives.

Suddenly, everything changes. Sumac has to give up her room to make the newcomer feel at home. She tries to be nice, but prickly Grumps clearly disapproves of how the Lotterys live: whole grains, strange vegetables, rescue pets, a multicultural household... He's worse than just tough to get along with — Grumps has got to go! But can Sumac help him find a home where he belongs?

EMMA DONOGHUE is the author of the international bestseller and Man Booker Prize finalist Room, as well as several other novels, including Kissing the Witch, which was shortlisted for the Tiptree Award. Born in Ireland, she now lives in Canada with her partner and their two children.
