Starred & Rave Reviews

★ “Age-appropriate and inviting, this is a great way to get kids excited about national parks.”

—Booklist, Starred Review

For more information see pages 28–29

“This colorful bilingual title in the Words Are Fun/Diverpalabras series gives early readers and parents an opportunity to practice identifying objects both in English and Spanish. The board book has convenient page tabs that are illustrated with a picture of an object associated with a certain time of day, location, or activity, such as cereal for breakfast and blocks for a classroom.”

(See page 38)

—Booklist

“In this new series about world cultures and geography, each title covers details about a specific country in an inviting way...The five categories of geography included in the books provide accessible information that is usable by both the casual reader and the more detailed young researcher...Highly Recommended” (See page 25)

—School Library Connection

“Through fictionalized narration, energetic characters, and fun cartoon illustrations, the If You Were a Kid series gives young readers insight into different areas of life... Each story comes packed with quick-fact sidebars, complete with photographs and charts, and volumes end with handy, easy-to-follow maps, time lines, and glossaries. A fun, absorbing first step into nonfiction.”

(See page 26)

—Booklist

“For kids who thrive on the excitement of fast cars, video games, movies, and robots, these titles look behind the scenes and test readers’ knowledge with activities to see if they’ve got the right stuff....Beyond its high-interest appeal, this interactive series bears consideration for its challenging vocabulary and STEM ties.” (See page 35)

—School Library Journal

“This volume from the Science of the Body series tackles the biggest organ of all: skin!...the playful, comic-style illustrations and the multicultural cast of cartoon characters offering additional facts and asides make for an informative and fun learning experience.” (See page 34)

—Booklist

“...Topics are covered in double-page spreads, which further chunk information into manageable sections with plenty of colorful digital artwork and photographs. In addition to giving basic property facts about the geometric shapes, the author explains how to calculate their perimeter, surface area, or volume. What students will enjoy the most, however, are the real-world connections and related topics.” (See page 27)

Chapter 4 Acadia's Animals

You may see white-tailed deer nibbling on the grass in Acadia. Black bears and moose live in the park, too. But they are rarely seen.

More than 300 types of birds live in Acadia. One of them is the peregrine falcon. It builds its nest high in the cliffs.

The peregrine falcon is one of the fastest animals on Earth.

If You Were a Kid

Think about your everyday life. The clothes you wear. The kind of home you live in. The foods you eat. Many of these probably wouldn't be the same if you were living in a different period of time or experiencing a different lifestyle in an unfamiliar part of the world. Through the stories of the If You Were a Kid series, readers are transported to some of the most important moments in history and the most thrilling modern events to experience life through a kid's-eye view.

Carnival: Our most famous Carnival celebration is in Venice, where people roam the streets wearing masks and outfits in styles from the 1400s. Carnival occurs each year before Lent, a time when people give up one thing (such as eating chocolate) in the six weeks leading up to Easter.

Easter: This is our most important religious holiday. We go to church on Sunday and then take Monday off work and school to relax with our families.

Calcio Fiorentino: Celebrated on June 24, this honors John the Baptist, the patron saint of Florence. It is celebrated by playing an older version of soccer. In fact, calcio is the Italian word for "soccer." How is calcio different? Teams dressed in special colorful costumes can punch and elbow each other. Rough!

Palio di Siena: This ancient horse race is still run through the streets of Siena today. It takes place on July 2 and August 16. Each city district has a horse. The winner is the pride of Siena!

Let's Celebrate!

Everyone loves a holiday, and we have some fun ones in Italy. Christmas is my favorite. We celebrate it from December 24 through January 6—much longer than in some other countries. The last day of this celebration is a special one. You'll see lots of girls dressed as la Befana, a witch. This witch brings presents, so we like her a lot!

Make a Carnival Mask

Materials: Sheet of paper, sheet of cardstock or cardboard, small stick (such as a popsicle stick), scissors, glue and tape, decorations (markers, paint, glitter, feathers, etc.)

- 1 To make your mask template, fold the paper in half. Draw half a mask. Make sure the middle of the mask touches the folded edge. This way, when you unfold the paper, you'll have a full mask! It can be any shape—a star, a butterfly, or the more common design above.
- 2 Cut out the mask template.
- 3 Lay the template on the cardstock or cardboard. Trace around the template. Cut out your mask. Be careful with the eyeholes.
- 4 Decorate your mask. Have fun!
- 5 Tape the small stick to one side of the mask.

You're done! Find a mirror, put on your mask, and enjoy.

Getting to Know the World's Greatest Composers

Written and illustrated by Mike Venezia

These books are without a doubt the definitive—and most entertaining—biographies of composers for young readers. Venezia's clever mix of historical photographs, his own tongue-in-cheek cartoon illustrations, and factual biographical text combine to present the composers as they really were.

From the very beginning, John Philip Sousa's band was a big hit! He always made sure he played music that everyone could enjoy.

John and his band traveled to as many cities and towns as possible. It was almost like a big holiday when they came to town. Schools and businesses closed, and everyone from miles around would go to the concert. Sometimes the audience loved the music so much that they demanded the band play their favorite piece over and over again. John Philip Sousa never minded doing this, especially if they wanted to hear one of his marches.
