

Book Talk

Books We Love This Month

Frogspell Book One: Frogspell

By C. J. Busby

Illustrated by David Wyatt

Frogspell is the first in a four book series set in King Arthur's court, where Max, a young boy being trained to be a knight, lives with family including his sister, Olivia, who would love to be the one learning how to use a sword and shield. Max is determined to win the upcoming Novices' Spell Making competition, finally beating his horrible nemesis Adrian 'Snotty' Hogsbottom and proving to his father that he would be a better wizard than warrior. He creates a spell that turns people into frogs but he might not make it to the competition when the siblings and their pets, a sarcastic rat and absent-minded dragon, get mixed up in Lady Morgan Le Fay's plot to take down King Arthur.

Ages 7-10

"I loved this book because it's so funny and imaginative with delightful illustrations."

— Keri Anne

 SCHOLASTIC

www.scholastic.ca