

Book Talk

Books We Love This Month

The Haunting of Gabriel Ashe

By Dan Poblocki

Gabriel is making new friends in a new town after a fire has destroyed his father's puppet studio. He falls in with a crowd who don't approve of his friend, Seth, even though they were all friends once upon a time. His role-playing games with Seth involve an imaginary battle against The Hunter, but odd and frightening things begin to happen in the forest where the game takes place. Could the monster from their imagination have come to life, or is Seth up to no good? Or is it something else entirely?

Ages 10-14

"I loved this book because it was so creepy. This is a great read if you like a good scare, but be sure you're up for it!"

— Janet

 SCHOLASTIC

www.scholastic.ca