The Three Little Pigs and the Somewhat Bad Wolf

By Mark Teague

When he is stricken by a serious blood sugar drop, the Somewhat Bad Wolf goes in search of food. He is lured to the home of one of the Three Little Pigs by the delicious aroma. Who doesn't find the smell of bacon irresistible? He surprises himself — and the pigs — when he is able to blow down the doors of the first two houses, but is stymied by door on the solid brick house. Because this is the only house left, everyone moves in together, enjoys a healthy meal (without bacon), and paddles around the pool.

Ages 3-5
