

Book Talk

Books We Love This Month

Family Tree Book Two: The Long Way Home

By Ann M. Martin

Ann M. Martin's most recent series spans four generations of one family. Family Tree Book Two: The Long Way Home focuses on Abby's daughter Dana. Dana was always close to her father, a celebrated New York author. Dana loves the life they have in New York — a life that is far away and far removed from Maine. When tragedy strikes and her family ends up back in Maine, Dana eventually makes the decision to follow her own path and move back to the city with her bohemian Aunt Adele. But can she truly leave her family and Maine behind?

Ages 8-12

“I introduced you to this series with Family Tree Book One: Better to Wish and I'm back to tell you about the second instalment in this four-book series. I LOVE this series — and this book! Not only because it brings back memories of the books I read as a child, but also because Ann M. Martin is an amazing storyteller.”

— Janet

 SCHOLASTIC

www.scholastic.ca