

Bayview High

Dangerous Rivals Chapter 11: The Watcher

Working with Words—Representing Using Comic Strips

Draw a six-frame, black and white comic strip to illustrate the action on pages 66, 67 and 68 of the text. Look at some comic strips for ideas.

Give your comic strip a title in the first frame.

Cartooning Tips:

- Body language and facial expression help carry the message.
- Dialogue is minimal but specific.
- Large images in the foreground indicate the importance of the action.
- Comic-strip artists often use onomatopoeia (words that imitate sounds).
