

Bayview High

Dangerous Rivals Chapter 12: Bad Medicine

Working with Words—Sentence Types

Sentences can be classified according to their purpose:

For example: A sentence that exclaims is an exclamatory sentence and ends with an exclamation mark.

A sentence that orders or commands is an imperative sentence and ends with a period.

Classify the following sentences by purpose.

1. What a mess! _____
2. Come here. _____
3. I'm such an idiot! _____
4. Oh, no! _____
5. Get in the truck. _____

Write two exclamatory sentences.

1. _____
2. _____

Write two imperative sentences.

1. _____
2. _____