Chapter 11: Raising the Stakes

Working with Words—Cartooning

Some of the events in Chapter 11 could be seen as humorous.

Look at the last five paragraphs on page 65. Tape two pieces of paper together and draw a cartoon strip of five frames for a family newspaper to show the humour in what is happening.

Remember that cartoonists show the meaning by:

- Facial expressions especially eyes, mouths, and hair
- Body language
- Speech balloons that capture what is being said.
- Simple line drawings, often in black and white
