Striking Distance Chapter 5: New Kid

Working with Words—Demonstrative Pronouns

Demonstrative pronouns point out specific people, places or things.

For example:

This is my new car.

Those people are cheering for Lincoln High.

This and these refer to nearby things.

That and those refer to distant things.

Use this, these, that or those to complete the following sentences.

1. _____ is my older sister Katie.
2. Put _____ books into the bin for pick-up next week.
3. _____ is not the way to kick the soccer ball.
4. I see _____ people each week at the gym.
5. What is _____ noise?

Write a sentence using each of this, these, that and those.

1. _____
2. _____
3. _____
4. _____
