

“All aboard!” The boy was conductor on the train.

“I want to go find a best pet,” said Emma. “One that loves flying, isn’t scared of the dark, won’t tell secrets but isn’t always quiet, hides broccoli and likes what I like.”

“WHOO-WHOO,” said the boy, who was also the engineer. “Why not get a best friend instead?”

“Huh?” said Emma.

