

So he very quietly went down to the garage and got all his dad's tools. He brought them back upstairs and started to work.

He moved one wall way over to the right.
He moved one wall way over to the left.
He pushed the ceiling up.