The Marvels

By Brian Selznick

Two seemingly unrelated stories—the first in pictures, the second in words—together create a beguiling narrative puzzle. The book opens with an uninterrupted illustrated story that sweeps us through five generations of a legendary family, beginning in 1766 with Billy Marvel. He survives a devastating shipwreck and grows up in a London theater. There his progeny flourish as brilliant stage actors—until the youngest Marvel, Leontes, runs away into the fire of an unknown future.

A century later, Joseph Jervis, another outsider on the run, seeks refuge with an estranged uncle at his mysterious house in London, where ships and fires, theater programs, and ghostly presences abound. Even more enigmatic is stormy Uncle Albert who won't answer Joseph's questions about the house or about an old photo of a boy whose eyes haunt Joseph. So Joseph sets out to solve the mysteries on his own . . . because his future may depend on it.

From the remarkable imaginations of Cassandra Clare comes a pulse-pounding plunge

Holly Black and Cassandra Clare Share the Scoop on Their Collaboration!

What was your writing process on this project?

Holly: One of us would write 300 to 500 words, then pass it to the other person, who'd write over those words, then write another 300 to 500 words and pass it back. And honestly, that worked out really well, because we'd just write until we got stuck. The idea was that every scene would be written by both of us. We don't trade off chapters or character point-of-view. And my mom was really unnerved because she couldn't tell the difference. She's a big Cassie fan! I mean, she likes me fine, but she loves Cassie.

So which came first – the world or the characters?

Cassie: We were on tour together and we were at an airport, and Holly had this idea a long time ago: wouldn't be it be awesome to do a chosen hero narrative, but with a twist. And I thought the twist was a really interesting point. I told her it would be a great story. And at this airport, I was reading a Rick Riordan book, and I commented on how I loved middle grade, but didn't have a great middle grade voice. And Holly was like, "I have a great middle grade voice." And I was like, "Thanks for that, but..." And we started about this idea, and she immediately knew what I meant. And we started talking about it, and by the time we got the plane, we had the whole character of Callum nailed down, along with his backstory, and the world, almost all the stuff that would happen in the five books

What do you guys like about each other's writing?

Holly: I think Cassie really gets to the heart of characters and their emotions – she does it super-well. I'm an underwriter in my first drafts, so as I push over the laptop, it will be a skeletal scene and she'll add all of this powerful emotion to it, and I'll be like, "Whoa! I had no idea everyone was feeling this way! I had no idea they had feelings at all!"

Cassie: I can see that! Holly has a really great, intuitive sense for when magic makes emotional sense, how it works as a metaphor for things in our lives. I definitely don't have that. She's really great with that – she can just see it. There are definitely places where we overlap on what we're good at, but there are definitely places that we complement each other.

Vega Jane Book 1: The Finisher Mass Market Edition

By David Baldacci

Why would Quentin Herms flee into the Quag? There was nothing in the Quag except certain death.

Vega Jane has never left the village of Wormwood. But this isn't unusual – nobody has ever left the village of Wormwood. At least not until Quentin Herms vanishes into the unknown.

Vega knows Quentin didn't just leave – he was chased. And he's left behind a very dangerous trail of clues that only she can decode.

The Quag is a dark forest filled with terrifying beasts and bloodthirsty Outliers. But just as deadly are the threats that exist within the walls of Wormwood. It is a place built on lies, where influential people are willing to kill to keep their secrets. Vega is determined to uncover the truth – but the closer she gets, the more she risks her life.

Master storyteller David Baldacci is back with the follow up to his winning fantasy debut, The Finisher.

Vega Jane Book 2: The Keeper

By David Baldacci

Vega Jane was always told no one could leave the town of Wormwood. She was told there was nothing outside but the Quag, a wilderness filled with danger and death. And she believed it - until the night she stumbled across a secret that proved that everything she knew was a lie.

Now just one thing stands between Vega Jane and freedom - the Quag. In order to leave Wormwood and discover the truth about her world, Vega and her best friend Delph must find a way to make it across a terrifying land of bloodthirsty creatures and sinister magic. But the Quag is worse than Vega Jane's darkest imagining. It's a living, breathing prison designed to keep enemies out and the villagers of Wormwood in.

The Quag will throw everything at Vega Jane. It will try to break her. It will try to kill her. And survival might come at a price not even Vega Jane is willing to pay.

Master storyteller David Baldacci unleashes a hurricane of action and adrenaline that takes readers to the breaking point.

Praise for The Finisher:

Goosebumps Most Wanted #8: Night of the Puppet People

By R.L. Stine

Just in time for the Goosebumps movie, in theaters August 7th, 2015!

Ben and his twin Jenny are terrified by the strange puppet show at their fifth birthday party. The puppets are ugly and frightening and get all the kids screaming. The old puppeteer whispers to Ben and Jenny as he leaves: "I'll see you again..."

Now they are twelve, but they never forgot that scary time. And when their friend Jesse shows them the collection of old puppets he found hidden in his attic, they feel a twinge of fear. But Jesse has big plans. He wants to do an elaborate puppet show at school and he wants to video it for YouTube.

As the three kids practice their show, frightening things begin to happen. The puppets seem to act on their own. And move on their own.

And then, the three kids begin to act strangely. They say things they didn't mean to. They do crazy things in school, as if they are not in control of their own bodies or minds.

Four Goosebumps Graphix tales now in full-colour!

Slappy's Tales of Horror (Goosebumps Graphix)

By R.L. Stine

The talented Dave Roman creates the horrifying drawings for "The Night of the Living Dummy," the origin story about that most evil of all ventriloquist dummies, Slappy!

In "A Shocker on Shock Street," Jamie Tolagson captures the chilling tale of a brother and sister doing their dream job: testing rides in a movie studio theme park, where the special effects are REALLY special.

With his shadowy illustrations, Gabriel Hernandez creates the perfect atmosphere in "The Werewolf of Fever Swamp," a spooky story about a boy and his dog who go sniffing around in a lonely swamp... and wish they hadn't.

Ted Naifeh is at his creepy best in "Ghost Beach," a scary ghost story about a brother and sister who investigate a local legend and discover a terrible secret about their family.

Space Dumplins

By Craig Thompson

For Violet Marlocke, family is the most important thing in the whole galaxy. So when her father goes missing while on a hazardous job, she can't just sit around and do nothing. To get him back, Violet throws caution to the stars and sets out with a group of misfit friends on a quest to find him. But space is big and dangerous, and she soon discovers that her dad has been swallowed by a giant, planet-eating whale. With her father's life on the line, nothing is going to stop Violet from trying to rescue him and keep her family together.

Visionary graphic novel creator Craig Thompson brings all of his wit, warmth, and humor to create a brilliantly drawn story for all ages. Set in a distant yet familiar future, Space Dumplins weaves themes of family, friendship, and loyalty into a grand space adventure filled with quirky aliens, awesome spaceships, and sharp commentary on our environmentally challenged world.

Praise for Blankets:

★ "His visual mastery shows in fluid line work, assured compositions, and powerful use of solid black areas and negative space." —Booklist, starred review

"His exceptional b&w drawings balance representational precision with a bold and wonderfully expressive line for pages of ingenious, inventively composed and poignant imagery."
—Publishers Weekly

"This second, much longer work shares the acuity for character development and dynamic sensitivity that makes the author so compulsively readable." —School Library Journal

Praise for Habibi:

★ "It is unfair to expect two masterpieces in a row from anyone, but here Thompson sits securely in that rarefied air." —Booklist, starred review

★ "A lushly epic love story that's both inspiring and heartbreaking... A dense, swirling dervish of a tale... this will be the most talked about graphic novel of the fall." —Publishers Weekly, starred review

HARDCOVER & PAPERBACK RELEASES SEPTEMBER 2015

A new thriller from New York Times bestselling author Jennifer A. Nielsen.

A Night Divided

By Jennifer A. Nielsen

With the rise of the Berlin Wall, twelve-year-old Gerta finds her family divided overnight. She, her mother, and her brother Fritz live on the eastern side, controlled by the Soviets. Her father and middle brother, who had gone west in search of work, cannot return home. Gerta knows it is dangerous to watch the wall, to think forbidden thoughts of freedom, yet she can't help herself. She sees the East German soldiers with their guns trained on their own citizens; she, her family, her neighbors and friends are prisoners in their own city.

But one day, while on her way to school, Gerta spots her father on a viewing platform on the western side, pantomiming a peculiar dance. Then, when she receives a mysterious drawing, Gerta puts two and two together and concludes that her father wants Gerta and Fritz to tunnel beneath the wall, out of East Berlin. However, if they are caught, the consequences will be deadly. No one can be trusted. Will Gerta and her family find their way to freedom?

Dead Upon a Time

By Elizabeth Paulson

It's a fairytale nightmare...

One girl is kept in a room where every day the only food she's given is a poisoned apple. Another is kept in a room covered in needles--and if she pricks her finger, she'll die. Then there are the brother and sister kept in a cell that keeps getting hotter and hotter...

A sinister kidnapper is on the loose in Kate's world. She's not involved until one day she heads to her grandmother's house in the woods--and finds her grandmother has also been taken. Already an outcast, Kate can't get any help from the villagers who hate her. Only Jack, another outsider, will listen to what's happened.

Then a princess is taken, and suddenly the king is paying attention—even though the girl's stepmother would rather he didn't. It's up to Kate and Jack to track down the victims before an ever after arrives that's far from happy.

Elizabeth Paulson lives in Ireland.

Now Delia is a ghost, trapped in her creepy home forever. As she meets the other ghost girls who haunt the narrow hallways, as well as the handsome ghost boy on the grounds, she learns shocking truths about the house's history. Threatened

By Eliot Schrefer

When he was a boy, Luc's mother would warn him about the "mock men" living in the trees by their home – chimpanzees whose cries would fill the night.

Luc is older now, his mother gone. He lives in a house of mistreated orphans, barely getting by. Then a man calling himself Prof comes to town with a mysterious mission. When Luc tries to rob him, the man isn't mad. Instead, he offers Luc a job.

Together, Luc and Prof head into the rough, dangerous jungle in order to study the elusive chimpanzees. There, Luc finally finds a new family – and must act when that family comes under attack.

As he did in his acclaimed novel Endangered, a finalist for the National Book Award, Eliot Schrefer takes us somewhere fiction rarely goes, introducing us to characters we rarely get to meet. The unforgettable result is the story of a boy fleeing his present, a man fleeing his past, and a trio of chimpanzees who are struggling not to flee at all.

A Little in Love

By Susan E. Fletcher

Paris, 1832

A girl lies alone in the darkness, clutching a letter to her heart.

Eponine remembers being a child: her swing and the peach tree, and the baby brother she loved. But mostly she remembers being miserable. Taught to lie and cheat, and to hate the one girl, Cosette, who might have been her friend.

Now, at sixteen, the two girls meet again, and Eponine has one more chance. But what is the price of friendship—the love of a boy?

Praise for Susan Fletcher:

"One of the most poetic and original voices working now." —The Guardian (UK)

Friends for Life

By Andrew Norriss

When Jessica sits next to Francis on a bench during recess, he's surprised to learn that she isn't actually alive—she's a ghost. And she's surprised, too, because Francis is the first person who has been able to see her since she died.

Before long, Francis and Jessica are best friends, enjoying life more than they ever have. When they meet two more friends who can also see Jessica, the question arises: What is it that they have in common? And does it have something to do with Jessica being a ghost?

A bright, bold debut about a girl who was born a boy, but refuses to let that stand in the way of her dream.

George

By Alex Gino

More than anything else, George wants to play Charlotte in her fourth-grade class's production of Charlotte's Web. The problem is, her teacher won't let her, because George is a boy. But George isn't about to let that squash her dream. With the help of her best friend, George must learn to stand up for her wish – and brave a few bullies along the way.

Transcending all categories and genres, George is a pertinent and poignant middle-grade read for kids of all backgrounds.

From George

George reached the end of Charlotte's monologue and was ready for the dialogue with Wilbur that followed. But George didn't hear her cue. She opened her eyes. Ms. Udell was frowning, and a thick crease had formed across her forehead.

"George, what was that?" she asked.

"I . . .," started George, but there were no words to finish the sentence. "I . . ."

"Was that supposed to be some kind of joke? Because it wasn't very funny."

"It wasn't a joke. I want to be Charlotte." George's voice sounded much smaller now that she was speaking her own words.

"You know I can't very well cast you as Charlotte. I have too many girls who want the part. Besides, imagine how confused people would be. Now, if you're interested in being Wilbur, that's a possibility. Or maybe Templeton—he's a funny guy."

"No, thanks. I just . . . I wanted . . ."

Dan Poblocki is back with a new spooky ghost story perfect for fans of Mary Downing Hahn and John Bellairs.

There is an island, far off the coast of Maine, where the ghosts of the past are restless.

Then an immense storm blows in, and the wedding party is left stranded with no way to contact the mainland... and no idea that they have been targeted for revenge by the undead. The only clues to the danger they're in are a scrap of an old Nazi uniform — and an unfamiliar voice, crying out for help in German...

Josie and Eli soon realize there's much more to worry about than guest lists and flowers. It's up to them to uncover the chilling history of Stone's Throw Island and put its ghosts to rest — or this dream wedding will become an absolute nightmare.

Now, they are turning their smarts and high-energy hijinks to something completely different: their local Christmas pageant! But what if they're not cast as the wise men? What if instead they have to play angels in the pageant? Distasteful. Deplorable. Dreadful. And it's not like anything else is going their way this holiday season, either. Can the triplets figure out what to get for their mom, solve a mystery about a stolen Santa, and recover their holiday spirit in time for the pageant? Of course they can! And they'll do it with humor and charm, or they're not the Brewster triplets.

Seeing Red

By Katherine Erskine

Life will never be the same for Red Porter. He's a kid growing up around black car grease, white fence paint, and the backward attitudes of the folks who live in his hometown, Rocky Gap, Virginia.

Red's daddy, his idol, has just died, leaving Red and Mama with some hard decisions and a whole lot of doubt. Should they sell the Porter family business, a gas station, repair shop, and convenience store rolled into one, where the slogan — "Porter's: We Fix it Right!" — has been shouting the family's pride for as long as anyone can remember?

With Daddy gone, everything's different. Through his friendship with Thomas, Beau, and Miss Georgia, Red starts to see there's a lot more than car motors and rusty fenders that need fixing in his world.

Jungle of Bones

By Ben Mikaelson

Dylan Barstow has finally crossed the line. After getting caught on a late-night joyride in a stolen car, Dylan is shipped off to live with his ex-Marine uncle for the summer. But Uncle Todd has bigger plans for Dylan than push-ups and early-morning jogs.

Deep in the steamy jungles of Papua New Guinea, there's a WWII fighter plane named Second Ace that's been lost for years, a plane that Dylan's own grandfather barely escaped from with his life. In all this time, no one has ever been able to track down Second Ace — but now Dylan and his uncle are going to try.

Lush and haunted, vital and deadly, these alien jungles half a world away could mean Dylan's salvation, or they could swallow him whole.

Ben Mikaelson was awarded the International Reading Association Award and the Western Writers' Golden Spur Award. His novels have won critical acclaim, as well as several reader's choice awards. These novels include Rescue Josh McGuire, Sparrow Hawk Red, Stranded, Countdown, Petey, and Touching Spirit Bear. Ben and his wife, Melanie, live in a log cabin near Bozeman, Montana, with a 700-pound black bear they have adopted and raised.

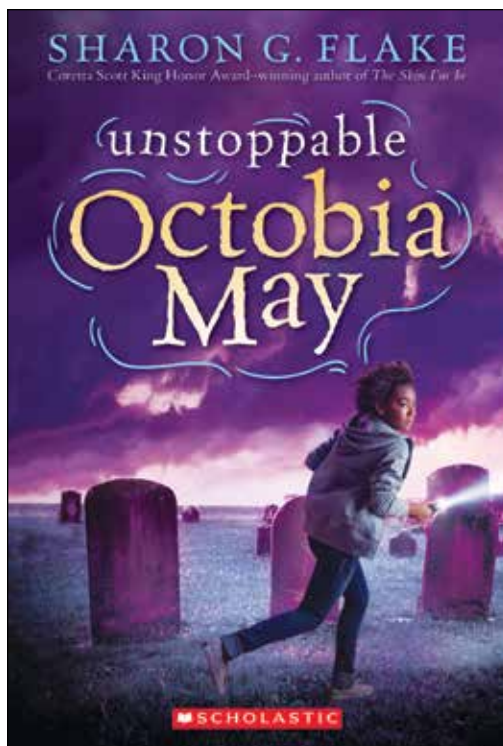

A poignant coming-of-age story set in the mid 1950's that eerily blends history, race, culture, and family.

Unstoppable Octobia May

By Sharon Flake

Octobia May is girl filled with questions. Her heart condition makes her special - and, some folks would argue, gives this ten-year-old powers that make her a "wise soul." Thank goodness for Auntie, who convinces Octobia's parents to let her live in her boarding house that is filled with old folks. That's when trouble, and excitement, and wonder begin. Auntie is non-traditional. She's unmarried and has plans to purchase other boarding homes and hotels. At a time when children, and especially girls, are "seen, not heard," Auntie allows Octobia May the freedom and expression of an adult. When Octobia starts to question the folks in her world, an adventure and a mystery unfold that beg some troubling questions: Who is black and who is "passing" for white? What happens when a vibrant African American community must face its own racism?

And, perhaps most important: Do vampires really exist? In her most and probing novel yet, Sharon G. Flake takes us on a heart-pumping journey.

The Inker's Shadow

By Allen Say

For Allen Say, life as teen in Southern California was a cold existence. His father, one of the leading hamburger salesmen in Japan, ran a booming burger business, much like McDonald's, and sent Allen to an American military academy, so that his son could learn English and "become a success in life."

As the school's first and only Japanese student, he experienced immediate racism among his fellow cadets and his teachers. The other kids' parents complained about Allen's presence at the all-white school. As a result, he was relegated to a tool shed behind the mess hall. Determined to free himself from this oppression, Allen saved enough money to buy a 1946 Ford for $50 - then escaped to find the America of his dreams!

In this follow-up to Drawing From Memory, Allen continues to reinvent himself as an author and illustrator. Merging his paintings with cartoon images and archival photos, Allen Say delivers an accessible book that will appeal to any reader in search of himself.

Praise for Drawing From Memory:

- ★ "Simple, straightforward sentences and a conversational narration in combination with a wealth of images will appeal to aspiring artists and reluctant readers alike."
—School Library Journal, starred review
 - ★ "Throughout, you can see canny artistic choices being mad—color here, monochrome there, a cartoon, a snapshot—that reinforce content with appropriate form."—Horn Book, starred review
- "As the story of a young artist's coming of age, Say's account is complex, poignant, and unfailingly honest. Say's fans—and those who also feel the pull of the artist's life—will be captivated."

A Lucky Author Has a Dog

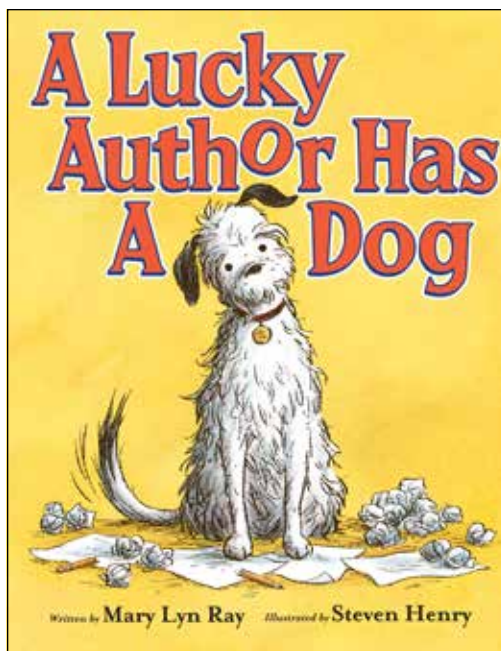

By Mary Lyn Ray

Illustrated By Steven Henry

Ever wonder what it's like to be an author?

Does she write in a quiet corner somewhere? Or someplace loud and busy? Does she have ideas forty times a day? Or does she sometimes get stuck? And how does her dog make her lucky?

New York Times bestselling author Mary Lyn Ray, together with illustrations from Steven Henry (Ella the Elegant Elephant) that are chock full of hidden jokes, answers these questions and more in a story of one writer, her furry friend, and a school visit that brings authors young and old (and dogs!) together.

Praise for Mary Lyn Ray's Stars:

- ★ "Ray's simple ode to stars is an engaging concept book... it's beautifully structured for eliciting children's conversation and response." —School Library Journal, starred review

Elephant in the Dark

By Mina Javaherbin

Illustrated By Eugene Yelchin

A mysterious creature has been moved into the merchant's barn—and the villagers are dying of curiosity. What does it look like? What could it be? The impatient villagers can't wait until morning to find out.

One by one, each takes turns stealing into the dark barn.

And each is only able to feel one small part of the beast.

"It's like a hose!" says one.

"It's like a fan," says another.

"No, it's like a tree trunk!" says a third.

It's not until the elephant walks into daylight that the truth is revealed.

This well-loved story is based on a poem by the popular 13th century Persian poet, Rumi. The author, Mina Javaherbin, also from Iran, has translated and retold this resonant life-long favorite universal tale for contemporary readers of all ages. Eugene Yelchin, Newbery Honor book author/artist of Breaking Stalin's Nose, has based his brilliant illustrations on Persian miniatures.

Praise for Breaking Stalin's Nose by Eugene Yelchin:

A Newbery Honor Book

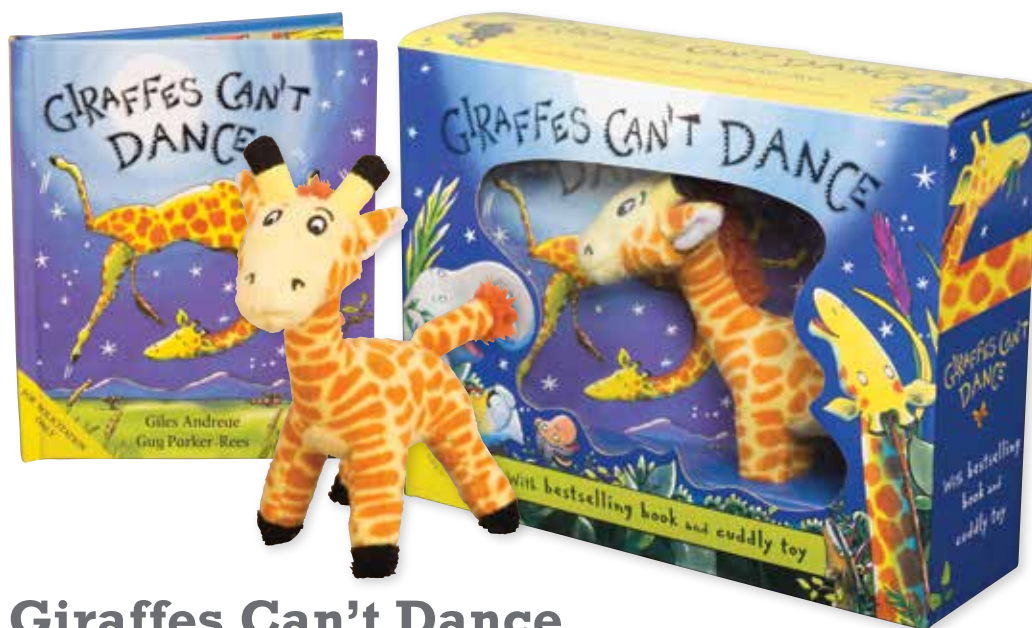

★ "This brief novel gets at the heart of a society that asks its citizens, even its children, to report on relatives and friends. Appropriately menacing illustrations by first-time novelist Yelchin add a sinister tone." —The Horn Book, starred review

"Yelchin's graphite illustrations are an effective complement to his prose, which unfurls in Sasha's steady, first-person voice, and together they tell an important tale." —Kirkus Reviews

"Yelchin skillfully combines narrative with dramatic black-and-white illustrations to tell the story of life in the Soviet Union under Stalin." —School Library Journal

Eugene Yelchin loves to create books that explore the boundaries of universal truth. He is the author and illustrator of the Newbery Honor book Breaking Stalin's Nose, as well as many award-winning picture books. He lives in Topanga, California with his wife and their two children. Prince Fly Guy flies to a dark castle, fends off a giant, and rescues a beautiful princess.

Even reluctant readers will enjoy this fun, zany story about Fly Guy's adventure in a fairy tale!

Monday Is One Day

By Arthur Levine

Illustrated by Julian Hector

One by one, the days of the week roll by. Monday is one day. Tuesday's blue shoes day. Wednesday's halfway day. With monster roars and splashy puddles, with crazy ties and hugs, kids and parents count the perfect small moments of their weekday time together, looking forward to the weekend, when the days will be all theirs.

This celebration of precious parent-child moments depicts many different types of families and lets children rejoice with their parents in the true meaning of quality time.

Praise for The Very Beary Tooth Fairy

"Inspiring and clever, this story captures the simple joy and limitless possibility of belief." —Kirkus

"Levine (Monday Is One Day) underlines the need for heroes that 'look like us' (he invokes Barack Obama and Sandy Koufax in his dedication)." —Publishers Weekly

"Levine addresses the concerns of many children who want to believe that magic exists and avails everyone." —Booklist

Arthur A. Levine wrote Monday Is One Day when he was at home with his son (who was then an infant) and thinking about how much he was going to miss him when he went back to work. Arthur has been a children's book editor for twenty-five years, over the course of which he's also written seven books of his own. He still loves his work but treasures family time even more. He lives in New Jersey.

Julian Hector spent many happy days with families in his Brooklyn, New York, neighborhood to gather inspiration for this book. He is a recent graduate of Parson's School of Design and the illustrator of The Little Matador and This Is the Firefighter. Monday Is One Day marks Julian's Scholastic debut.

Friends can betray.

Mothers can disappear.

Visions can mislead.

Certainties can unravel.

Sanctuary

By Jennifer McKissack

After the untimely death of her aunt Laura, Cecilia Cross is forced to return to Sanctuary, a rambling, old French-Gothic mansion that crowns a remote island off the coast of Maine. Cecilia is both drawn to and repulsed by Sanctuary. The scent of the ocean intoxicates her, but she's also haunted by the ghosts of her past — of her father who died at Sanctuary five years ago, and of her mother who was committed soon after. The memories leave Cecilia feeling shaken, desperate to run away and forget her terrible family history.

But then a mysterious guest arrives at Sanctuary: Eli Bauer, a professor sent to examine Sanctuary's library. Cecilia is intrigued by this strange young man who seems so interested in her — even more interested in her than in the books he is meant to be studying. Who is he and what does he want? Can Cecilia possibly trust her growing feelings for him? And can he help her make peace with her haunted, tragic past?

Jennifer McKissack is the author of Sanctuary. She lives in Austin, Texas, with her family.

The first book in a thrilling fantasy trilogy starring one of the animal kingdom's most hunted heroes.

Crimebiters! #1: My Dog Is Better Than Your Dog

By Tommy Greenwald

Jimmy Bishop loves doing 3 things:

- 1) Laughing at funny dog videos online,
- 2) watching his favorite show (Stop! Police!) on TV,
- 3) and reading his favorite vampire book (Fang Goodness) over and over.

His self-involved older sister and workaholic Mom think he needs to stop obsessing already! But when his Dad finally allows Jimmy to get a puppy before school starts, everything changes and Jimmy has something new to focus on: his amazing dog, Abby who seems to have some very unusual habits. She sleeps all day but is wired at night, and she runs from the garlic kelp biscuit made by Jimmy's strange new babysitter Mrs. Cragg. There's just something different about Abby. Could she possibly be...a vampire? Jimmy's best friend Irwin thinks Jimmy's being ridiculous, but then when Abby uncovers a real crime in progress and helps him become friends with an actual, human girl, even Irwin has to admit that perhaps Abby might have some super powers after all.

Praise for Charlie Joe Jackson's Guide to Not Reading:

★ "With its subversive humor and contemporary details drawn straight from kids' worlds, this clever title should attract a wide following." —Booklist, starred review

"This is a fun, fast-moving look at middle-school life through the eyes of a kid who would rather clean his room than pick up a book. Reluctant readers will be pleased." —School Library Journal

"Slackers everywhere have a new, likable hero in Charlie Joe Jackson." —Kirkus Reviews

Tommy Greenwald is the author of the Charlie Joe Jackson series about the most reluctant reader ever born. Tommy lives in Connecticut with his wife, Cathy; his kids, Charlie, Joe and Jack; and his dogs, Coco and Abby. Abby is not necessarily a crimefighting vampire dog — but she makes Tommy and his family very, very happy, which is definitely a kind of superpower when you think about it.

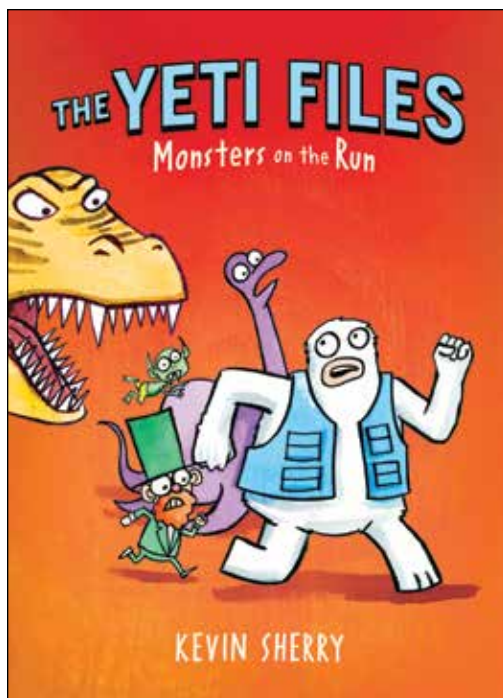

Blizz Richards and his band of wacky cryptids are back for another illustrated adventure!

The Yeti Files #2: Monsters on the Run

By Kevin Sherry

Everyone thinks the Loch Ness monster is one-of-a-kind. But that just means Nessie's lonely. And only yeti Blizz Richards and his team of cryptozoologists can help her find a friend just like her. With a little help from a time-traveling leprechaun, the gang travels back 65 million years to the age of dinosaurs to begin the search.

But they weren't ready for the dangers that wait for them: monstrously mean dinos. Giants with razor-sharp teeth. Terrifyingly cute little kitties. Can Blizz keep his team safe, or will they have to sacrifice everything to help Nessie find a friend?

Praise for The Yeti Files #1: Meet the Bigfeet:

"Fans of the 'Bad Kitty' and 'Captain Underpants' titles will certainly love the first in this series of illustrated chapter books." —School Library Journal

"Illustrator Sherry's first volume in the Yeti Files is a fast and funny graphic-prose tale full of labeled pictures and comic-style panels." —Kirkus Reviews

Kinda Like Brothers

By Coe Booth

It was one thing when Jarrett's mom took care of foster babies who needed help. But this time it's different. This time the baby who needs help has an older brother — a kid Jarrett's age named Kevon.

Everyone thinks Jarrett and Kevon should be friends — but that's not gonna happen. Not when Kevon's acting like he's better than Jarrett — and not when Jarrett finds out Kevon's keeping some major secrets.

Jarrett doesn't think it's fair that he has to share his room, his friends, and his life with some stranger. He's gotta do something about it — but what?

When Sophie's Feelings Are Really, Really Hurt

By Molly Bang

Everyone's feelings get hurt, and it's especially painful in childhood. In this story, Bang's popular character Sophie is hurt when the other children laugh at her and tell her she's wrong.

At issue is Sophie's colorful, expressive painting of her favorite tree. Sophie loves it, but her picture is different from the paintings done by the other students. "The sky isn't orange! Trees aren't blue! Your picture is wrong!" they tell her.

In the end, the students learn there are many different ways to interpret the world – and each other. Here is a simple story that tackles the common issue of hurt feelings as it gently helps us to be more kind.

Flashes

By Tim O'Rourke

Charley has visions . . .

Flashes of things she can't explain. A girl in trouble. The sound of trains. She feels certain they are clues to a crime. But no one will believe her. Until she meets Tom, a young policeman on his first case: an accidental death on the railway tracks, not far from where Charley lives. Was it an accident, suicide . . . or murder?

The attraction between Charley and Tom is instant, but can they work together to find out what really happened on the tracks before it happens again?

Tim O'Rourke was a serving police officer for fifteen years, but now writes full time. Flashes is his debut young adult novel. Tim lives in England with his wife and three sons. You can visit him at www.kierahudson.com.

A delicious follow-up to Heather Hepler's smash hit The Cupcake Queen!

Frosted Kisses

By Heather Hepler

Former Manhattan girl Penny has quickly discovered that life in a small town is never dull. Not when there's a festival for every occasion, a Queen Bee to deal with, an animal shelter to save, and a cute boy to crush on.

There's a new girl in town: Esmeralda. She's beautiful, French, and just happens to be Queen Bee Charity's best friend. Penny hopes the arrival of Esmeralda means Charity might be too busy to keep making her life miserable.

But Penny doesn't have a lot of time to worry about Charity. Her best friend, Tally, has recruited her to help raise money to save the local animal shelter. Then there's Marcus, the adorable and mysterious boy who Penny thinks maybe likes her as much as she likes him. Plus, this is Penny's first holiday season as a "divorced" kid – although she has no idea what this means.

Can Penny help her friends save the shelter, navigate her new family dynamics, and get the boy, or will Charity and Esmeralda find a way to ruin everything?

Praise for The Cupcake Queen:

"Hepler's novel is greater than the sum of its parts, held together by Penny's genuine voice and emotions. Readers will root for Penny, a talented artist, as she develops her gifts and adapts to small-town life." —Kirkus Reviews

"[A]n endearing and poignant story about standing up to adversity and finding peace in what is, rather than holding out for what could be." —Publishers Weekly

"The story is heartwarming and is as comforting as the confections produced by The Cupcake Queen bakery." —Children's Literature

"Hepler establishes realistic, relatable, and strong characters with very endearing relationships."

The Lightning Queen

By Laura Resau

Nothing exciting happens on the Hill of Dust, in the remote mountains of Mexico in the 1950s. There's no electricity, no plumbing, no cars, just day after day of pasturing goats. And now, without his sister and mother, eleven-year-old Teo's life feels even more barren. And then one day, the mysterious young Esma, who calls herself the Gypsy Queen of Lightning, rolls into town like a fresh burst of color. Against all odds, her caravan's Mistress of Destiny predicts that Teo and Esma will be longtime friends. Suddenly, life brims with possibility. With the help of a rescued duck, a three-legged skunk, a blind goat, and other unexpected allies, Teo and Esma must overcome obstacles—even death—to fulfill their impossible destiny. Inspired by true stories derived from rural Mexico, The Lightning Queen offers a glimpse of the encounter between two fascinating but marginalized cultures—the Rom and the Mixtec Indians—while telling the heart-warming story of an unlikely friendship that span

A teacher-free classroom. What could possibly go wrong?

Class Dismissed

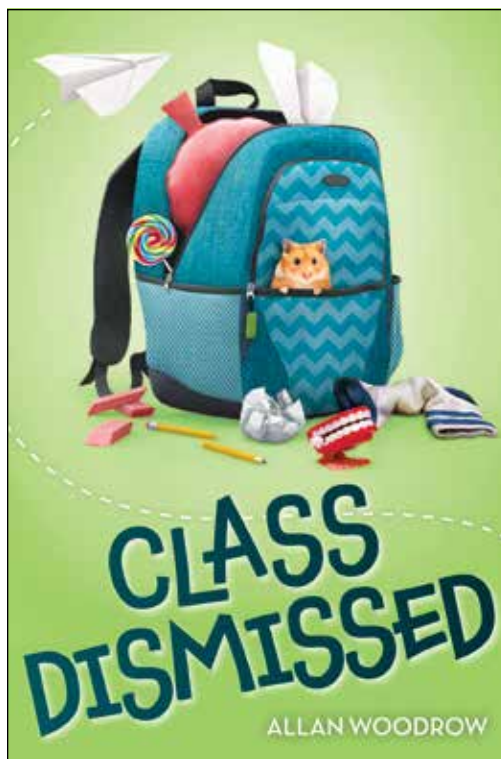

By Allan Woodrow

Class 507 is the worst class Ms. Bryce has ever taught. And she would know — she's been teaching forever. They are so terrible that when a science experiment goes disastrously wrong (again), Ms. Bryce has had it and quits in the middle of the lesson. But through a mix-up, the school office never finds out.

Which means ... Class 507 is teacher-free!

The class figures if they don't tell anyone, it'll be one big holiday. Kyle and his friends can play games all day. Samantha decides she'll read magazines and give everyone (much needed) fashion advice. Adam can doodle everywhere without getting in trouble. Eric will be able to write stories with no one bothering him. And Maggie ... well, as the smartest kid in the class she has an ambitious plan for this epic opportunity.

But can Class 507 keep the principal, the rest of the students, and their parents from finding out ... or will the greatest school year ever turn into the worst disaster in school history?

Praise for The Pet War:

"This fast-paced and funny novel presents a protagonist in the tradition of Tom Sawyer, a smug but winning preteen boy generally beloved by his peers though regarded with suspicion and perhaps a hint of distaste by adults." —Bulletin of the Center of Children's Books

"Otto is a humorous protagonist whose narrative will keep readers amused. Pet lovers will enjoy this entertaining story." —School Library Journal

"[M]any readers will identify with Otto's yearning for a pet and his frustrations with his all-too-perfect sister." —Publisher's Weekly

Better off Friends

By Elizabeth Eulberg

For Macallan and Levi, it was friends at first sight. Everyone says guys and girls can't be just friends, but these two are. They hang out after school, share tons of inside jokes, their families are super close, and Levi even starts dating one of Mac's friends. They are platonic and happy that way.

Eventually they realize they're best friends – which wouldn't be so bad if they didn't keep getting in each other's way. Guys won't ask Mac out because they think she's with Levi, and Levi spends too much time joking around with Mac, and maybe not enough time with his date. They can't help but wonder . . . are they more than friends or are they better off without making it even more complicated?

From romantic comedy superstar Elizabeth Eulberg comes a fresh, fun examination of a question for the ages: Can guys and girls ever really be just friends? Or are they always one fight away from not speaking again – and one kiss away from true love?

Praise for Better Off Friends:

"A pitch-perfect rom-com . . . A humorous and cozy story about friendships and relationships, and the oh-so-fine line between them." —Booklist

"Teens seeking light romance laced with just enough melancholy, setbacks, and relatable insecurities to make them want nothing but happiness for the characters will enjoy this."

—Bulletin of the Center for Children's Books

"A fun if lightweight read that will appeal widely to romance fans." —Kirkus

"[Eulberg's] account of an evolving relationship offers witty banter interspersed with pangs of unrequited love." —Publishers Weekly

Horses of the Dawn #2: Star Rise

By Kathryn Lasky

For the filly Estrella, nothing is more precious than freedom. She was born at sea, chattel to men sailing to the New World in search of gold. But Estrella and her herd escaped the conquerors and embarked on a journey across thousands of miles – braving harsh terrains and fierce predators – to a land where they can finally run wild.

But now, an unforeseen danger threatens to destroy the pack. A boy with a special gift is lost in the wilderness, and only the horses can keep him alive. But to save the boy, the herd will have to abandon their quest, and risk galloping straight back into the hands-and harnesses- of their captors.

And so, it's up to Estrella, the herd's unlikely leader, to make a life-changing decision. Should the horses accept the orphan boy as one of their own? How do you choose between freedom and friendship?

Praise for Horses of the Dawn Book One:

"As in works such as her Guardians of Ga'hoole series, Lasky uses animals to touch on very human issues . . . Complex and distinctive characters offer a fresh view of familiar historical events. A promising start to a new series." — Kirkus Reviews

"Lasky successfully fuses fantasy and fact as she gives her equine characters credible emotional depth and underscores the tensions and disparity between Old and New World sensibilities. It's a haunting story of loss, self-discovery, survival, and homecoming." — Publishers Weekly

Acclaimed creator James Proimos, illustrator of Year of the Jungle by Suzanne Collins, brings his zest and zany humor to this charming friendship story.

Praise for Year of the Jungle:

- ★ "Where more realistic illustrations would feel overwrought and sentimental, Proimos' [drawings] are sturdy and sweet, reflecting a child's clear-eyed innocence." —Booklist, starred review
- ★ "Proimos' ink-lined, digitally colored illustrations are the pitch-perfect tonal complement to Collins' narration . . ." —The Bulletin for the Center for Children's Books, starred review

Praise for Swim! Swim!:

"[Proimos] uses the comic-book format, with panels and word balloons, to great effect here; Lerch's repeated "Swim! Swim!" can be a nice storytime chant. The bright colors and clear art match the simple story and will attract the youngest read-to-me set." —Booklist

"The large font and few words make this simple story of friendship accessible to early readers."

I Survived #12: I Survived the Joplin Tornado, 2011

By Lauren Tarshis

The 2011 Joplin tornado was a catastrophic tornado that struck Joplin, Missouri in 2011. It was part of a larger tornado outbreak in the spring of that year and reached a maximum width of nearly 1 mile during its path through the southern part of the city, killing 158 people, injuring over 1,000 and caused damages amounting to a total of $2.8 billion, making it the costliest single tornado in U.S. history. Lauren will bring her signature intensity to this distinctly American natural disaster, placing a young boy in the middle of one of the deadliest tornado to strike the United States since 1947.

Princess Pink and the Land of Fake-Believe #3: The Three Little Pugs

(A Branches Book)

By Noah Z. Jones

In the Land of Fake-Believe, Princess Pink meets the Three Little Pugs—the trickiest car dealers in town. They sold Scaredy-Pants Wolf a lemon instead of a car! Molylocks and Princess must work together to get their friend his money back. Can Princess use her new karate moves to block, chop, and kick down their business for good?

Praise for Princess Pink and The Land Of Fake-Believe #1: Moldylocks And The Three Beards:

*“Jones takes ‘The Three Bears’ for a dizzy spin in this laff-riot series opener.... Fledgling readers will agree with Princess’ bemused comment: ‘This Land of Fake-Believe is crazy-cakes!’” —Kirkus Reviews, starred review

“The story...will have kids guffawing with the silly puns and cheering for the ingenious Princess Pink in this subverted version of the more traditional tale.” —Bulletin Of The Center For Children’s Books

Olive & Beatrix #1: The Not-So Itty-Bitty Spiders (A Branches Book)

By Amy Marie Stadelmann

Twin sisters Olive and Beatrix don't get along. Olive is "ordinary" and loves science and nature, and exploring. But Beatrix is a witch! She has a brain full of tricks, and she uses her magic powers to play pranks on Olive and her best friend, Eddie. In book #1, Beatrix ruins Olive and Eddie's latest science experiment. So Olive and Eddie play a prank on Bea. They rig up a bucket of spiders over her bedroom doorway. But when the spiders crawl into one of Bea's magic potions... WHAM! Giant spiders on the loose!! The sisters will have to work together to shrink these not-so itty-bitty spiders down to size!

Amy Marie Stadelmann loved to use her imagination to write and illustrate storybooks for fun when she was a child. In fact, it was so much fun, she decided to do it as an adult as well. She lives in Brooklyn, NY where she enjoys sunny days, mugs of hot cocoa and giving hugs to her grumpy pet rabbit, Oswald. Olive & Beatrix is her first series.

Race the Wild #3: Arctic Freeze

By Kristin Earhart

Dev has always liked watching the world through the lens of his camera. Because if he isn't participating, he can't ever fail. But to win a race through the frozen Arctic tundra, where animals are ferocious and nature is extreme, the red team needs everyone to give it their all—even Dev!

And if he doesn't, his new friends may be giving him the cold shoulder....

Kristin Earhart grew up riding horses, pestering her cat, and reading books about amazing animals. These days, she lives with her husband and son in Brooklyn, New York, and writes books of her own. She still loves animals. But now, when she pesters her cat, the surly cat pesters back.

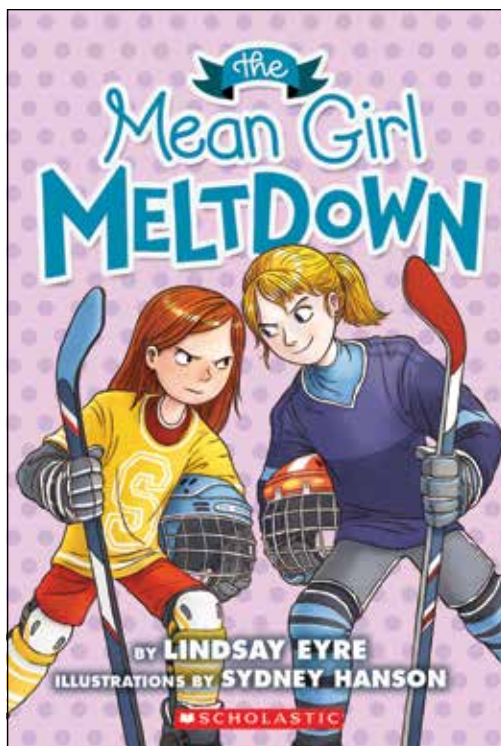

Sylvie Scruggs faces hockey sticks and mean-girl tricks — and still comes out on top.

The Mean Girl Meltdown

By Lindsay Eyre

Sylvie Scruggs is finally in fourth grade, and that means she's old enough to join her town's junior ice-hockey team. Sylvie is thrilled to discover her years of skating pay off, as she quickly becomes one of the best players on the squad. But someone else is still better: Jamie Redmond, a fifth-grader who notoriously doesn't like fourth-graders. And, it turns out, she really doesn't like Sylvie.

Then someone starts pranking Sylvie at practice, loosening the top of her water bottle and replacing her special lotion with mayonnaise. Sylvie knows it must be Jamie, trying to psych her out and keep her from being selected as team captain. She enlists her friends Miranda, Josh, and Georgie to prove Jamie's guilt once and for all . . . but can they catch the mean girl before Sylvie has a meltdown of her own?

"Funny and human and clever and wise. I really, really like this sparkling, racing, hilarious little gem." — Hilary McKay, author of Saffy's Angel and Binny in Secret

"Two words: Sylvie Scruggs. Two more words: LOVE HER! Eyre nails it with this new kid on the block. (And here's a challenge: I dare you not to laugh out loud)." — Barbara O'Connor, author of How to Steal a Dog and The Fantastic Secret of Owen Jester

Advice on dealing with bullies, written by a kid for a kid!

The Survival Guide to Bullying

By Aija Mayrock

"One day I realized that I had to create a little, yet powerful survival guide that any kid could use as a life-saving device when they were being bullied in the gym, the cafeteria, the locker room, the hallways — anywhere. A guide that could help any kid dry their tears and put a half smile on their face. A guide that could convince a kid to come out of the bathroom stall that they have locked themselves in and see the flickering light at the end of the tunnel. A guide that could be a road map, a flashlight, or a friend."

Who is Aija Mayrock?

- Aija is a 19 year old writer, actress, and filmmaker whose dream it is to give a voice to the voiceless through art.
- Aija is not a newcomer to Scholastic; she was the 2013 Silver Medal winner of the Scholastic Art & Writing Award program for her Poetry.
- She began writing The Survival Guide to Bullying at age sixteen and self-published the eBook in October 2014.
- She is currently in her freshman year of college in New York City.

Aija Mayrock is a 19-year-old girl who experienced bullying firsthand. Instead of letting her experiences break her down, she channeled her positive energy into writing and self-publishing The Survival Guide to Bullying, where she shares the strategies that helped her survive and thrive. Aija writes about how to handle bullying, cyber bullying, dealing with fear, personal safety, and ultimately creating the life that you dream of having. Aija is also an accomplished screenwriter. Her film Diego received a Silver Key from Scholastic's Art and Writing Awards. Visit Aija online at www.aijamayrock.com.

I Survived True Stories #2: Nature Attacks

By Lauren Tarshis

The author of the New York Times-bestselling I Survived series brings us four more harrowing true stories of real kids in the midst of horrible disasters.

From 14-year-old Joseph Dunn who was the lone survivor of the Shark Attacks of 1916, to 9-year-old Mike Kramer who, with the help of his quick-thinking parents, survived the Peshtigo fire of 1871 (which took place on the very same day in history as the Great Chicago Fire!), to the 13-year-old girl who survived a terrifying attack by a box jellyfish, this is a collection of unforgettable narrative non-fiction stories of unimaginable destruction – and, against all odds, survival.

Praise for I Survived True Stories: Five Epic Disasters:

"The narratives are factual yet still lively and suspenseful enough to hook readers. Ideal for a high-interest pick or a read-aloud for older students." —School Library Journal

Becoming Maria: Love and Chaos in the South Bronx

By Sonia Manzano

Set in the 1970s in the Bronx, this is the story of a girl with a dream. Emmy award-winning actress and writer Sonia Manzano plunges us into the daily lives of a Latino family that is loving—and troubled. This is Sonia’s own story rendered with an unforgettable narrative power. When readers meet young Sonia, she is a child living amidst the squalor of a boisterous home that is filled with noisy relatives and nosy neighbors. Each day she is glued to the TV screen that blots out the painful realities of her existence and also illuminates the possibilities that lie ahead. But—click!—when the TV goes off, Sonia is taken back to real-life—the cramped, colorful world of her neighborhood and an alcoholic father. But it is Sonia’s dream of becoming an actress that keeps her afloat among the turbulence of her life and times. Spiced with culture, heartache, and humor, this memoir paints a lasting portrait of a girl’s resilience as she grows up to become an inspiration to millions.
