Cat Kid Comic Club #2: From the Creator of Dog Man

By (author) Dav Pilkey , Illustrated by Dav Pilkey

Nov 30, 2021 | Hardcover $15.99

The second book in the exciting, bestselling graphic novel series by Dav Pilkey, the author and illustrator of Dog Man.

Li'l Petey, Molly, Flippy, and twenty-one rambunctious baby frogs are back for another creative adventure!

Contributor Bio

When Dav Pilkey was a kid, he was diagnosed with ADHD and dyslexia. Dav was so disruptive in class that his teachers made him sit out in the hallway every day. Luckily, Dav loved to draw and make up stories. He spent his time in the hallway creating his own original comic books -- the very first adventures of Dog Man and Captain Underpants.

In college, Dav met a teacher who encouraged him to illustrate and write. He won a national competition in 1986 and the prize was the publication of his first book, World War Won. He made many other books before being awarded the 1998 California Young Reader Medal for Dog Breath, which was published in 1994, and in 1997 he won the Caldecott Honor for The Paperboy.

Captain Underpants

The Xtreme Xploits of the Xplosive Xmas (The Epic Tales of Captain Underpants TV)

Adapted by Meredith Rusu

Sep 07, 2021 | Paperback , Trade | $8.99

Deck the halls with Captain Underpants in this wacky, holiday-filled, action-packed young graphic novel!

George and Harold love Christmas, but they've decided that the old traditions could use an upgrade. Their solution? Blissmas cooler, more modern version of Christmas, including a Mechalition Derby, holi-DJs instead of Christmas carols, lasers instead of twinkle lights, and a totally jacked Santa Claus.

But as with all of George and Harold's genius ideas, Blissmas has some unexpected consequences. If they don't act fast, Christmas could be gone forever! Can Captain Underpants defeat Mechanaclaus and save the holidays?

This hilarious young graphic novel is based on the "Mega Blissmas" holiday special of The Epic Tales of Captain Underpants TV show, now streaming on Netflix.

Contributor Bio

Meredith Rusu is the author of more than 50 children's books, specializing in titles based on television and movies such as LEGO Ninjago, Peppa Pig, and Star Wars. She is also the author of The DATA Set series under the name Ada Hopper. Meredith lives in New Jersey with her husband and two young sons who provide much of the inspiration for her writing. When she isn't working, Meredith enjoys karaoke, spending time with family, and going on the occasional adventure or two.

Color Edition

By (author) Dav Pilkey, Illustrated by Dav Pilkey

Nov 30, 2021 | Hardcover $15.99

The future of all humanity is at stake in the final color installment in this New York Times bestselling series by Dav Pilkey, the author and illustrator of Dog Man!

George and Harold, and their doubles, Yesterday George and Yesterday Harold, have a good thing going. Two of them go to school, while the other two hide in the tree house and play video games all day -- then they switch! But it turns out there's something rotten in the state of Ohio, and it's smellier than a pile of putrid gym socks. The boys' malicious gym teacher, Mr. Meaner, has created a method of mind control that transforms their fellow students into attentive, obedient, perfect children. Now it's all in George and Harold and Yesterday George and Yesterday Harold's hands!

By (author) Ann M. Martin , Illustrated by Chan Chau

Sep 07, 2021 | Paperback , Trade | $16.99

A brand-new Baby-sitters Club graphic novel adapted by newcomer Chan Chau!

Kristy's mom got remarried and their family moved to the ritzy neighborhood across town. The other members of The Baby-sitters Club think it's a good opportunity to get some new business, but the kids who live nearby aren't very friendly. They criticize Kristy's clothes and make fun of the BSC. And, worst of all, they laugh at Louie, Kristy's pet collie, who's getting old and not feeling well. These kids are total snobs! But if anyone can put them in their place, it's The Baby-sitters Club!

The Baby-sitters Club
18Stacey's Mistake (The Baby-sitters Club #18)

By (author) Ann M. Martin

Nov 02, 2021 | Paperback , Trade | $8.99

America's favorite series returns with a new look and a Netflix tv show.

Stacey's so excited! She's invited her friends from the Baby-sitters Club down to New York City for a long weekend. It's going to be perfect—a party and a sleepover Friday night, a big baby-sitting job on Saturday, and lots of sightseeing on Sunday.

But what a mistake! The Baby-sitters are way out of place in the big city. Mary Anne sounds like a walking guide book; Dawn's afraid of everything; Kristy can't keep her mouth shut; and Claudia's jealous of Stacey's friends.

Does this mean Stacey can't be the Baby-sitters' friend anymore? Will the Baby-sitters Club fall apart?

Ellie Berger, President, Scholastic Trade, said:

"Timeless, thrilling, and heartwarming, with masterful storytelling: The Christmas Pig is all of these and more. A gift for children and families alike, this story about the enduring power of love can be read together as a holiday tradition, and as a classic tale to be savored, any day of the year."

The Christmas Pig continues J.K. Rowling's brilliant return to publishing for children, following last year's #1 New York Times bestselling fairy tale The Ickabog, which was serialized online for free for children in lockdown and then published with all her royalties donated to her charitable trust Volant to help vulnerable groups impacted by the Covid-19 pandemic.

The book will be published in hardcover, with full-color jacket and featuring nine black and white spreads and decorative inside art from acclaimed illustrator Jim Field. The jacket design will be revealed in the coming months.

Ms. Marvel: Stretched Thin (Original Graphic Novel)

by Nadia Shammas, Nabi H. Ali
Sep 07, 2021 Paperback, Trade $16.99 CAD

An original middle-grade graphic novel starring breakout character (and New Jersey's own) Ms. Marvel!

Kamala Khan (a.k.a Ms. Marvel) is stretched too thin—literally. She's having a hard time balancing schoolwork with being a good friend, being there for her family, becoming the best fanfic writer this side of the Hudson River ... and, you know, becoming a Super Hero. She's tired and just barely keeping control, BUT she's handling it. Totally.

But when a mysterious robot tries to infiltrate Avengers Tower, it'll be up to Ms. Marvel to (again, literally) pull herself together, learn to ask for help, and fix the mess she's made before anyone gets hurt!

Great Power, No Responsibility (Spider-Ham Graphic Novel)

by Steve Foxe, Shadia Amin
Sep 28, 2021 Paperback, Trade $11.99 CAD

Peter Porker, the Spectacular Spider-Ham (and breakout character from Into the Spider-Verse), arrives in this all-new, original graphic novel for younger readers!

Experience a laugh-out-loud day in the life of Spider-Ham! After long being derided by the citizens of New York, Spider-Ham has finally been recognized for his outsized contribution to the city's safety, and receives the key to the city from none other than the mayor (and, being a cartoon universe, the key actually unlocks New York City's political and financial institutions). Sure, it's just a publicity stunt for the beleaguered mayor—and yeah, maybe every single other super hero was busy that day -- but an award is an award!

Of course, Spider-Ham isn't paying attention to the fine print telling him he didn't actually get to keep the key, and he swings off without returning the highly coveted oversized object. The next day, when the mayor's office finally gets in touch to ask for the key back, Spider-Ham realizes he must have dropped it sometime in the last 24 hours. YIKES.

Now, our notoriously empty-headed hero must retrace his steps from the past day, following his own trail to discover where he dropped the key before it falls into villainous hands. Did he lose it during a rooftop chase with the Black Catfish? Drop it in the middle of a tussle with the Green Gobbler? Leave it behind while visiting Croctor Strange's magic mansion? Accidentally store it next to May Porker's vacuum cleaner? Who knows? You'll have to read to find out! But one thing's for sure -- Great Power, No Responsibility is an action-packed, hilarious adventure perfect for younger readers.

Perfect for kids who...

WHAT'S "BAD FOOD" ALL ABOUT?

Somewhere deep within the walk-in pantry at Belching Walrus Elementary lives an array of lunch foods that live in harmony – baskets of fruits and veggies, chocolate milks and apple juices, and ice cream and yet-to-be-nuked chicken fingers.

One day, the Supplies from the Principal's office show up and insist on sharing the coolness of the cooler. Their ruler is a ruler (pun intended) named Baron von Lineal. The Baron argues that they work harder than anyone in Belching Walrus Elementary while food just sits around, so the residents of the pantry must open their doors. There's plenty of room in the cooler for everyone, right? Wrong! The Baron and his cohorts take over the pantry for themselves!

To free their fellow food, it's up to three young heroes – Slice, Scoop, and Totz – to venture out of the pantry and foil the Baron's dastardly plans.

WHO IS THIS COOL "DOODLE BOY" GUY?

Joe Whale a.k.a. the Doodle Boy is an eleven-year-old from the UK whose art went viral after he decorated an eight-foot wall at a local restaurant. Since then, he has appeared on Ellen Degeneres's Little Big Shots (hosted by Melissa McCarthy) and been commissioned by companies, hotels, and restaurants for his doodle-style illustrations. He was also recently commissioned to create a custom drawing for the Duke and Duchess of Cambridge's Royal Train Tour!

OK, WHAT ABOUT ERIC LUPER?

Eric Luper has written books for kids of all ages, including the YA novel "Seth Baumgartner's Love Manifesto". He loves excitement and is always looking for his next adventure. Eric has fibbed his way into a tour of the ultra-secret PEZ headquarters, rebuilt a castle in France, explored the tunnels under Paris and Istanbul, escaped hungry crocodiles in Costa Rica, and rafted down the Colorado River.

In a modern mega-city built around dragons, one boy gets caught up in the world of underground dragon battles and a high-stakes gang war that could tear his family apart.

Once, dragons nearly drove themselves to extinction. But in the city of Drakopolis, humans domesticated them centuries ago. Different breeds take to the skies in nighttime bouts between the infamous kins—criminal gangs who rule through violence and intimidation.

Abel has always loved dragons, but after a disastrous showing in his dragon rider's exam, he's destined never to fly one himself. All that changes the night his sister appears at his window, entrusting him with a secret...and a stolen dragon.

Show Me a Sign (Scholastic Gold)

By (author) Ann Clare LeZotte

Sep 21, 2021 | Paperback , Trade | $9.99

Deaf author Ann Clare LeZotte weaves a riveting Own Voices story inspired by the true history of a thriving deaf community on Martha's Vineyard in the early 19th century. This piercing exploration of ableism, racism, and colonialism answers the call to dig deep, examine core beliefs, and question what is considered normal.

Mary Lambert has always felt safe and protected on her beloved island of Martha's Vineyard. Her great-great-grandfather was an early English settler and the first deaf islander. Now, over a hundred years later, many people there -- including Mary -- are deaf, and nearly everyone can communicate in sign language. Mary has never felt isolated. She is proud of her lineage.

But recent events have delivered winds of change. Mary's brother died, leaving her family shattered. Tensions over land disputes are mounting between English settlers and the Wampanoag people. And a cunning young scientist has arrived, hoping to discover the origin of the island's prevalent deafness. His maniacal drive to find answers soon renders Mary a "live specimen" in a cruel experiment. Her struggle to save herself is at the core of this penetrating and poignant novel that probes our perceptions of ability and disability.

Set Me Free

By (author) Ann Clare LeZotte

Sep 21, 2021 | Hardcover $25.99

A riveting standalone companion to the Schneider Family Book Award winner, Show Me a Sign by Deaf author and librarian, Ann Clare LeZotte.

Three years after being kidnapped as a "live specimen" in a cruel experiment to determine the cause of her deafness, Mary Lambert has grown weary of domestic life on Martha's Vineyard, and even of her once beloved writing.

So when an old acquaintance summons her to an isolated manor house outside Boston to teach a young deaf girl to communicate, Mary agrees. But can a child of eight with no prior language be taught? And is Mary up to the task? With newfound purpose, Mary arrives only to discover that there is much more to the girl's story--and the circumstances of her confinement--than she ever could have imagined. Suddenly, teaching her and freeing her from the prison of her isolation, takes on much greater meaning, and peril.

Riveting and complex, delicately nuanced and fervently feminist, Set Me Free is a masterful stand-alone companion to Show Me a Sign, and a searing exposé of ableism, racism, and colonialism that will challenge you to think differently about the dignity and capacity within every human being.

I Survived the Galveston Hurricane, 1900 (I Survived #21)

By (author) Lauren Tarshis

Sep 07, 2021 | Paperback , Trade | $7.99

More than a century later, the Galveston Hurricane of 1900 is still America's deadliest disaster. Lauren Tarshis's story of one child surviving the horrible event churns with page-turning action and bold hope.

The city of Galveston, Texas, was booming. Perched on an island off the southern coast of Texas, Galveston had been founded in the 1830s. By 1900, it was Texas's richest and most important city. Boats loaded up with American cotton and wheat steamed from Galveston to countries around the world. Arriving ships were crowded with immigrants. The streets, paved with crushed oyster shells, sparkled like they'd been sprinkled with diamonds.

True, this glittering city was prone to flooding. But just a few years before, a weather forecaster had said the idea of a hurricane striking Galveston was absurd.

So when a storm started brewing on September 8, 1900, no one believed it would be any worse than previous storms. They gathered on the beach to cheer on the wild waves. But what started as entertainment soon turned into a nightmare as the wind and waves crashed into the city. Dozens of thousands of people were

Excerpt from Things We Couldn't Say:

I try my best to tune out Mrs. Oberst's lesson, like I do with most other lessons of hers. The problem is, when I do that, I get trapped in my thoughts. And sometimes my thoughts transport me to dark places.

Like now. My thoughts transport me back to when my birth mom walked out on the family.

My mom opens the front door wide, so I can see the rain splashing in the street. She waves at me with tears in the corners of her eyes and says, "Bye, bye, G-Bug!"

Some of her hair is in her face as she takes a step out the door, the rain getting her all wet, the thunder roaring in the distance. I want to reach out and grab her, maybe protect her.

But it doesn't work. My hands don't work.

I want to call after her, but my voice fails me. I want to take a step forward, but I can't.

Something tugs at me on the inside, but I don't know what it is. She gets farther and farther away from me. Darkness creeps from all around and swallows her..

Thick tears roll down my cheeks, working fine.

Something touches my back. I can tell it's Pops by the way the hand feels. Hard and calloused. But I stay focused on the darkness as it completely consumes her and sneaks over to me. The thunder and sirens get louder and closer—loud enough for me to realize this might just be how I'm going to feel forever.

Mrs. Oberst slams a book on my desk to bring me back. I jolt in my seat, nearly falling out, causing some of my classmates to crack up.

The Buried

By (author) Melissa Grey

Sep 07, 2021 | Hardcover $25.99

A heart-pounding, claustrophobic new story from Melissa Grey, the author of RATED.

Ten years ago, disaster struck the remote town of Indigo Falls. A horrific event drove the residents underground, into shelters that keep them safe from the danger on the surface. No one speaks about what happened that fateful day, but even the youngest still remember the fear and, most of all, the searing pain when sunlight touched their skin. Now, a handful of families inhabit this bunker together, guided by a charismatic leader named Dr. Imogen Moran. There are many rules Dr. Moran has instilled to govern life belowground. You must always tell the truth. You must avoid the light of the sun. You must never touch skin to skin. But the most important rule, the one that was drilled into their heads from the moment the hatch slammed shut all those years ago, was at the very end of the list. It rattled around in their skulls when all was silent, echoing in the quiet, lonely dark. You must never go outside.

Mary, Will I Die?

By (author) Shawn Sarles

Sep 07, 2021 | Hardcover $25.99

Bestselling author Shawn Sarles' most terrifying YA horror yet...

It starts innocently enough. Four kids - three girls, one boy - are at one of their houses, playing games. One of them has read about "Bloody Mary" and the idea that if you look into a mirror and say her name thirteen times, she will show you the future. Some legends say she'll show you your one true love or a skull to mark your death within five years. Others say that conjuring Bloody Mary will bring her into your world.

Both sets of legends are true. The kids go through with the act, saying her name thirteen times. One girl looks in the mirror and sees her longtime crush. One girl looks in the mirror and sees the boy in the group. But she pretends to see something else. One girl looks in the mirror and sees a girl she's never seen before but can't get out of her mind. And the boy... he sees a skull. But he pretends to see something else. They try to laugh it off. And mostly they forget about it. Or at least they don't talk about it. Yes, over the next few years, whenever they look into a mirror, it's like

Excerpt from Bluebird:

August, 1946

It is a land without rubble.

Eva leans over the top rail of the ship, gazing across the leaden sea. And there are no piles of charred stone. No smoking pits or chunks of broken concrete. Just walls. A city of them. Whole and strong-looking, rising brick by solid brick. Beautiful, unbombed buildings floating in a bank of gray and sooty fog.

This is a new world now. That's what they'd told her. The old world is ash. Burnt like paper in the fire-winds of Berlin.

Sometimes, Eva thinks, people tell you lies.

There's supposed to be a statue, but she can't find it in the mist.

Up onto the first rung of the rail and Eva leans out, knees braced against the metal, hooked in place by her shoe heels. She can see the tops of heads and hats on the lower deck, water churning into foam far below them. And the city spreads, bigger, closer, anchored to the moving horizon.

She closes her eyes. Lets the wind snatch her hair. Slap her cheeks. It's like driving fast with the windows down. Like diving off a cliff.

It feels a little like flying.

Bluebird

by Sharon Cameron
Oct 05, 2021 Hardcover $24.99 CAD

Author of Reese's Book Club YA Pick The Light in Hidden Places, Sharon Cameron, delivers an emotionally gripping and utterly immersive thriller, perfect for fans of Ruta Sepetys's Salt to the Sea.

In 1946, Eva leaves behind the rubble of Berlin for the streets of New York City, stepping from the fiery aftermath of one war into another, far colder one, where power is more important than principles, and lies are more plentiful than the truth. Eva holds the key to a deadly secret: Project Bluebird -- a horrific experiment of the concentration camps, capable of tipping the balance of world power. Both the Americans and the Soviets want Bluebird, and it is something that neither should ever be allowed to possess.

But Eva hasn't come to America for secrets or power. She hasn't even come for a new life. She has come to America for one thing: justice. And the Nazi that has escaped its net.

Critically acclaimed author of The Light in Hidden Places Sharon Cameron weaves a taut and affecting thriller ripe with intrigue and romance in this alternately chilling and poignant portrait of the personal betrayals, terrifying injustices, and deadly secrets that seethe beneath the surface in the aftermath of World War II.

One Way or Another

By (author) Kara McDowell

Oct 05, 2021 | Paperback , Trade | $13.99

Sliding Doors meets To All the Boys I've Loved Before in a sweet, smart holiday romance about a girl who decides to stop letting her anxiety stand in the way of true love.

The average person makes 35,000 decisions every single day. That's about 34,999 too many for Paige Collins, who lives in debilitating fear of making the wrong choice. The simple act of picking an art elective is enough to send her into a spiral of what-ifs. What if she's destined to be a famous ceramicist but wastes her talent in drama club? What if there's a carbon monoxide leak in the ceramics studio and everyone drops dead? (Grim, but possible!)

That's why when Paige is presented with two last-minute options for Christmas vacation, she's paralyzed by indecision. Should she go with her best friend (and longtime crush) Fitz to his family's romantic mountain cabin? Or should she accompany her mom to New York, a city Paige has spent her whole life dreaming about?

Contributor Bio

Born in the mountains and raised in the desert, Kara McDowell spent her childhood swimming, boating, and making up stories in her head. Excerpt from Playing the Cards You're Dealt:

The house always wins.

At least, that's what us card sharks say when things don't go our way. It's an old saying about gamblers. No matter how skilled, sharp or slick you think you are—if you ain't smart enough to quit when you're ahead, you'll eventually lose all of your hard-earned money to the "house." Which, for all you youngbloods out there who don't know better, means the casino.

The house. It is all powerful. It sets the rules, it stacks the odds in its favor, and given enough time, it's unbeatable.

Now, every Joplin man worth his salt knows this—even young Anthony. But the thing is, the saying doesn't just apply to casinos. You see, when it comes to family matters, what Ant's daddy usually says is: Your mother is the house, and the house always wins.

And that was for sure the truth this morning. Before Ant even touched the knob to the back door, his mom appeared in the kitchen, with hands on hips, lips pursed, and eyeballs zeroed in on him.

As us OGs used to say back in the day, youngblood was cold-busted.

No matter what the people of Wakanda do, they can't save them. And their supply is running short. It's up to Shuri to travel from Wakanda in order to discover what is killing the Herb, and how she can save it, in the first volume of this all-new, original adventure.

When the World Turned Upside Down

By (author) K. Ibura

Nov 02, 2021 | Hardcover $23.99

What do you do when the world shuts down? A heartwarming story of friendship and overcoming adversity in a time of COVID, When the World Turns Upside Down is about community, giving back, and understanding the world around us through the power of generosity from debut middle grade author K. Ibura.

Nobody expected a tiny little virus to change the whole world in such a big way, especially not Shayla, Liam, Ai, and Ben. But when school closes to keep everyone safe, their lives turn upside down. It is one thing to learn that the outside world isn't safe, but why does it seem that the virus is causing trouble inside their homes too?

As they each struggle to adjust to life in quarantine, they discover they are not alone: their apartment building is full of people who need their help. Working together, they begin to see that there is power in numbers. When they cooperate, they can ease each other's challenges and help their neighbors through tough times. It's a lesson they'll need when protests explode in the streets. Soon, each friend has to decide what it means to be part of a community—and how much they're willing to do to make this world safer for everyone.

 Dec 07, 2021 Paperback , Trade $9.99 CAD

From Alpaca My Bags author Jenny Goebel comes another heartwarming tale of friendship, loyalty, and finding your voice.

Twelve-year-old Grace is desperate for a puppy. All she wants is someone to love -- and to love her back. Someone who won't disappear on her like her dad did. Someone who'll make her new stepfather's house feel like home.

Christmas morning, Grace springs out of bed hopeful that her dreams are about to come true. But the present that awaits her isn't soft and furry. It doesn't have padded paws. And instead of a dark, wet nose, there's a flat, pink nose instead. It's not a puppy at all -- it's a PIG.

Grace tries to make the best of the situation. She names the pig Bernard and dutifully learns how to care for him. But spending time with him is nothing like being with a dog. Bernard is awful at playing fetch and walking on a leash -- in fact, he's all around terrible at doing the things Grace dreamed of doing with a pet. But when a good friend lands in the hospital, Grace discovers that Bernard might have a special talent for making sick people feel better and that his calling might be as a certified therapy animal.

Grace loves the idea of visiting patients with Bernard and bringing a smile to their faces during an otherwise tough

From middle-grade darling Anna Staniszewski comes the story of a girl who might just have friendship down to a science.

Friendship? Just add science . . .

Just when she thought things were getting back to normal, LB's friendships are more confusing than ever!

She needs a new hypothesis, and fast, to revamp her relationship with Kat before Courtenay can ruin everything again. Sure, LB has never seen a superhero movie or drawn a comic, and LB has definitely never done roller derby before -- but if Kat likes those things, why not try? As she steps out of her comfort zone and into Kat's, LB discovers a world of new adventures. Maybe her first experiment started this mess, but her second plan is sure to fix it! Ilhan Omar

Ilhan began to understand injustice
when the war in Somalia sent her away from home, forced her and her family into a Kenyan refugee camp.
The dream for shelter and safety,
a distant garden of longing.

They came to the US
to plant new seeds, asylum granted, here Ilhan began to turn what was thought of her as girl
as Muslim as refugee
into a bouquet for others,
into a heart that mattered,
into a voice that could speak against injustice,
to try to undo its terrible grip on those who suffer.

Her light and knowing bloomed in the service of each community she touched as citizen
as educator
as organizer
as legislator
responding with grace and dignity
when faced with violence and hate.
Her gifts grew so full she was elected to the United States House of Representatives, the first Somali American refugee to be elected to the House, and the first woman of color to serve as a US representative from Minnesota.

Her garden of justice flowering.

WHITE LIGHT

Magnesium may be a metal, but living things really, really need it. It's what makes leaves green, for a start, because it's a key part of chlorophyll. And it's chlorophyll that turns leaves into solar powerhouses taking energy from the sun to make plants grow. Without magnesium, leaves turn yellow and plants die.

Human bodies need magnesium just as much. It's vital for enzymes, the chemical messengers that keep the body working as it should. And it's vital for healthy bones. If your body's low on magnesium, eat nuts, dark chocolate, and leafy greens!

But it's best known for making a flash! In the old days, photographers used a flash of magnesium powder to give a brilliant light for portraits. And you'll find it lighting up the night in fireworks and sparklers!

Engineers add magnesium to aluminum to make extra-strong and light metal cars, airplanes, and even laptops.

Powdered magnesium makes brilliant fireworks, burning with intense white. You can add metal salts to give colors, such as barium chloride for green, strontium chloride for red, and sodium salts for yellow.

MAGNESIUM: At 68°F (20°C): Solid • Melting point: 1,202°F (650°C) • Boiling point: 1,994°F (1,090°C) • Color: silvery white

The Curse of the Mummy: Uncovering Tutankhamun's Tomb (Scholastic Focus)

By (author) Candace Fleming

Sep 07, 2021 | Hardcover $25.99

Award-winning and critically acclaimed author Candace Fleming presents the edge-of-your-seat true story of the search for Tutankhamun's tomb, the Western public's belief that the dig was cursed, and the battle for ownership of the treasures within.

During the reign of the New Kingdom of Egypt, the boy pharaoh Tutankhamun ruled and died tragically young. In order to send him on his way into the afterlife, his tomb was filled with every treasure he would need after death. And then, it was lost to time, buried in the sands of the Valley of the Kings.

His tomb was also said to be cursed.

Centuries later, as Egypt-mania gripped Europe, two Brits -- a rich earl with a habit for gambling and a disreputable, determined archeologist -- worked for years to rediscover and open Tutankhamun's tomb. But once it was uncovered, would ancient powers take their revenge for disturbing and even looting the pharaoh's resting place? What else could explain the mysterious illnesses, accidents, and deaths that began once it was found?

Candace Fleming is the versatile and acclaimed author of more than twenty books for children and young adults, including the Printz Award Honoree and Los Angeles Times Book Prize honored The Family Romanov: Murder, Rebellion, and the Fall of the Russian Empire; the critically acclaimed Amelia Lost: The Life and Disappearance of Amelia Earhart; Boston Globe/Horn Book Award-winning biography, The Lincolns; the bestselling picture book, *Muncha! Sabotage: The Mission to Destroy Hitler's Atomic Bomb (Scholastic Focus)

By (author) Neal Bascomb

Sep 21, 2021 | Paperback , Trade | $13.99

A stunning adventure involving Nazis, nukes, fighting, failure, and everyday heroes, from the author of the award-winning The Nazi Hunters.

Neal Bascomb delivers another nail-biting work of nonfiction for young adults in this incredible true story of spies and survival.

The invasion begins at night, with German cruisers slipping into harbor, and soon the Nazis occupy all of Norway. They station soldiers throughout the country. They institute martial rule. And at Vemork, an industrial fortress high above a dizzying gorge, they gain access to an essential ingredient for the weapon that could end World War II: Hitler's very own nuclear bomb.

When the Allies discover the plans for the bomb, they agree Vemork must be destroyed. But after a British operation fails to stop the Nazis' deadly designs, the task falls to a band of young Norwegian commandos. Armed with little more than skis, explosives, and great courage, they will survive months in the snowy wilderness, elude a huge manhunt, and execute two dangerous missions. The result? The greatest act of sabotage in all of World War II.

By (author) Jack Fairweather

Oct 19, 2021 | Hardcover $25.99

With exclusive access to previously hidden diaries, family and camp survivor accounts, and recently declassified files, critically acclaimed and award-winning journalist Jack Fairweather brilliantly portrays the remarkable man who volunteered to face the unknown in the name of truth and country. This extraordinary and eye-opening account of the Holocaust invites us all to bear witness.

Occupied Warsaw, Summer 1940:

Witold Pilecki, a Polish underground operative, accepted a mission to uncover the fate of thousands interned at a new concentration camp, report on Nazi crimes, raise a secret army, and stage an uprising. The name of the camp -- Auschwitz.

Over the next two and half years, and under the cruellest of conditions, Pilecki's underground sabotaged facilities, assassinated Nazi officers, and gathered evidence of terrifying abuse and mass murder. But as he pieced together the horrifying Nazi plans to exterminate Europe's Jews, Pilecki realized he would have to risk his men, his life, and his family to warn the West before all was lost. The odds seemed insurmountable, but first he would have to survive.
