MOMMY?

ART BY MAURICE SENDAK
SCENARIO BY ARTHUR YORINKS
PAPER ENGINEERING BY MATTHEW REINHART

They're all here! Everybody's favourite monsters are just going about their business when a plucky little boy wanders into their cuckoo house. And what does he want? He wants Mommy!

No matter how scary these monsters are, there's no besting a little boy who's looking for his mommy. In one hilarious pop-up extravaganza after another, this kid shows them a thing or two.

MAURICE SENDAK has received the Caldecott Medal for Where the Wild Things Are, the Hans Christian Andersen Medal, the Laura Ingalls Wilder Award, the National Medal of Arts, and the first Astrid Lindgren Memorial Award.

ARTHUR YORINKS has written and directed for opera, theatre, dance, film, and radio and is the author of over two dozen books for children, including the Caldecott Medal winner Hey, Al.

MATTHEW REINHART illustrated and engineered the bestselling pop-up books Cinderella and, with Robert Sabuda, Encyclopedia Prehistorica: Dinosaurs.

CAPTAIN UNDERPANTS & THE PREPOSTEROUS PLIGHT OF THE PURPLE POTTY PEOPLE

BY DAV PILKEY

When we last saw George and Harold, they were about to take their pet pterodactyl Crackers back to the Cretaceous period. But things didn't work out quite as they had hoped. They've entered an absurd alternate reality where teachers are nice, kids are allowed to read banned books, and the cafeteria food doesn't smell like dirty diapers. Even worse, they've discovered alternate versions of themselves—Evil George and Evil Harold—who plan to unleash some preposterous plans on Piqua, Ohio. Now it's up to George and Harold to defeat the evil twins and THEIR superhero, Captain Blunderpants!

SHERLOCK HOLMES AND THE BAKER STREET IRREGULARS: THE FALL OF THE AMAZING WALENDAS, CASEBOOK NO. 1

BY TRACY MACK AND MICHAEL CITRIN

If you have not by now heard of the world's most brilliant crime solver of all time, the consulting detective, Mr. Sherlock Holmes, you have undoubtedly spent your years beneath a large rock—for much has been written about him. Those familiar with Mr. Holmes know that a gang of homeless boys, called the Baker Street Irregulars, assisted him in his crime solving.

When a murder at the circus unravels to reveal another, far more treacherous crime, the master detective and the boys of the BSI must pursue terrifying villains to solve this mystery, dodging danger at every turn.

Filled with added bonuses—a guide to the art of disguise, puzzles, maps, and a glossary of Cockney slang, just to name a few—Sherlock Holmes and the Baker Street Irregulars is a fun and imaginative reading adventure that boys and girls alike will love!

TRACY MACK is the author of Birdland, a Book Sense 76 Top Ten Book, a Sydney Taylor Award Honor Book, a Booklist Editors' Choice, a Kirkus Editor's Choice, a Bank Street College Best Book, a NYPL Book for the Teen Age, and a CCBC Choices Book. Her debut novel, Drawing Lessons, was a Booklist Top Ten First Novel, a NYPL Book for the Teen Age, a Bank Street College Best Book, and a Teen People Next Award Finalist.

MICHAEL CITRIN is an attorney and an avid Sherlock Holmes fan. From the age of eleven, he began reading and collecting Sherlockian stories and memorabilia. He has read all of the Sacred Writings and all of the subsequent adventures, as well.

Tracy Mack and Michael Citrin are married and live in Massachusetts.

SHERLOCK HOLMES interviews TRACY MACK & MICHAEL CITRIN

Sherlock Holmes: The purpose of this interview is to satisfy my curiosity regarding this new series, Sherlock Holmes and the Baker Street Irregulars. Why, pray tell, have you chosen to focus on my young assistants, the Irregulars?

Michael Citrin: Mr. Holmes, I've been a fan of yours since I was eleven. In fact, it was your adventures that made me a reader. But I've always wondered why the Irregulars are only mentioned in two short stories and two novels out of the entire canon. We wanted to give the Irregulars their due.

SH: As a partner in detection, Watson is top-notch, but as a writing partner, I'm afraid our styles would clash terribly. How is it that you two collaborate?

Tracy Mack: Since we're both writers, we've always wanted to work together. One critical point we discovered early on was that we have to surrender our egos to best serve the story, or at least one of us does—just kidding honey. We pass the drafts back and forth, each rewriting until we're satisfied. Sometimes it feels as though there is a mysterious third presence involved, guiding us along.

SH: An interesting notion, madam, but you know I believe only that which can be proven. Tell me, after all these years, why have you chosen this time to bring my adventures with the Irregulars back into the public eye?

TM: I also work as an—

SH: Editor, yes, evident from the blue pencil tucked behind your ear.

TM: Yes, and in that capacity, I noticed that there hasn't been a traditional mystery series for kids in a while. Growing up I'd always loved Encyclopedia Brown, Harriet the Spy, and Nancy Drew, and I wanted to help create something new and exciting to add to that rich tradition.

From the mind of Chris Wooding:

STORM THIEF

BY CHRIS WOODING

Orokos is a city of chaos, lashed by probability storms that re-order the world wherever they strike. It covers every inch of the rocky island that it dominates. It has stood for so long that history has forgotten it, and its citizens no longer question what exists beyond its walls. Then three of its denizens discover a map that holds the key to the secret at the heart of Orokos. But there are others, such as the Chief of the Protectorate Secret Police, who would do anything to get their hands on that power...anything at all...

Q&A with Chris Wooding on www.chriswooding.com

Q: Writing. How do you go about it?

A: I get up, have a shower, sit at my computer and write until my eyes start smoking. Then I go and get on with the rest of my life. Easy!

CHRIS WOODING is the author of The Haunting of Alaizabel Cray, an ALA Best Book for Young Adults; Poison; Kerosene; and Crashing. He lives in London and is currently at work on a graphic novel.

145,000 fans fell in love with Blister. Why not Jonah?

KISS ME TOMORROW

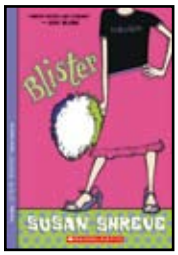

BY SUSAN SHREVE

There are too many men in Blister's life. There's her father, who plays "Dad" only when it doesn't inconvenience his girlfriend, Trixie. There's Frank, the boyfriend of Blister's mom, who shows inconvenient qualities of decency. There's Jakob, a tough boy terrorizing Blister's best friend, Jonah. And finally, there's Jonah himself, who made one mistake that may land him in jail, and then an even bigger one by falling for Blister.

It's a lot for one skinny redhead to handle. But if anyone can do it, it's Blister.

A startling new voice in UK fiction comes to PUSH.

BEAST

BY ALLEY KENNEN

Stephen hasn't had it easy. He's now in foster care because his mom is crazy and his dad is an ex-con vagabond. He's always in trouble or on his way to trouble. But none of these problems compare to the problem of the Beast—a fierce crocodile that Stephen's been taking care of for years. The Beast is Stephen's biggest secret—and also his biggest challenge. And that's when it's in a cage. When the Beast escapes, the stakes get even higher. With a keen eye and a startling voice, Ally Kennen joins the ranks of Kevin Brooks and Chris Wooding on the cutting edge of YA fiction.

This is ALLY KENNEN's first novel. She lives and works in the UK.

A tender book about finding everything that's been lost.

THE SWING

BY JOE CEPEDA

Josie's parents lost EVERYTHING. All the stuff they borrowed from the neighbours: lawnmowers, mixing bowls, camping gear. Even the dog, Leopoldo. Worst of all…they lost track of the time they promised to spend with Josie.

But it only takes a wooden swing and a special tree—okay, and some wacky, warm-hearted magic—for Josie to discover that nothing is lost forever.

Joe Cepeda's legion of fans will discover the same inventive originality in his writing as they have admired in his boldly distinctive illustrations.

"Passing on the gift" to help end world hunger...together.

TOGETHER

BY DIMITREA TOKUNBO
ILLUSTRATED BY JENNIFER GWYNNE OLIVER

Founded in 1944, Heifer International is a humanitarian assistance organization that works to end world hunger and protect the earth. By donating livestock, training participants to care for livestock, and "passing on the gift," Heifer has helped seven million families in more than 125 countries improve their quality of life and move toward greater self-reliance. For more information, visit www.heifer.org.

Scholastic works with Heifer International to promote Heifer's Read to Feed program, an effort that provides children with a simple way to help people struggling with poverty and hunger. Through Read to Feed, children become inspired to read books to raise money to help end world hunger. Together was published by Scholastic in support of Read to Feed, and to celebrate children's success in helping others. For more information, visit www.readtofeed.org.

DIMITREA TOKUNBO has illustrated two children's books for Boyds Mills Press, Sidewalk Chalk: Poems of the City and Has Anybody Lost a Glove? She has both written and illustrated stories for Read and Rise, a magazine published by Scholastic Inc. and the Urban League to encourage literacy for inner-city children. Ms. Tokunbo has also illustrated for Cricket Magazine and did the cover art for the February 2005 issue. She lives in New York City with her two daughters.

JENNIFER GWYNNE OLIVER has been a key animator and key assistant animator on many Disney feature films, including Beauty and the Beast and Aladdin. This is Ms. Oliver's first picture book. She lives and works in Orlando, Florida.

PRAISE FOR ALAPHABET MYSTERY

☆"Every spread is letter-perfect."
—Publishers Weekly, starred review

ALPHABET RESCUE

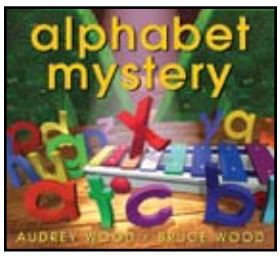

BY AUDREY WOOD
ILLUSTRATED BY BRUCE WOOD

Fire! Fire! Excitement builds as the "little" letters of the alphabet are making their own fire truck—and just in time, they save the day. The award-winning team of Audrey Wood and Bruce Wood has been widely applauded for their inventive, bestselling concept books. With more than 500,000 books in print, their two previous alphabet books have provided children with a fun, hide-and-seek approach to learning their abc's. Filled with phonics games and an engaging story, learning the alphabet has never been so much fun.

A talent show without Ella? Impossible!

ARTHUR A. LEVINE BOOKS

ELLA SETS THE STAGE

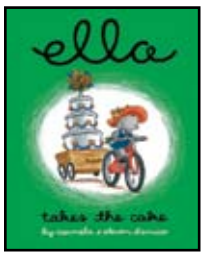

BY CARMELA AND STEVEN D'AMICO

The school on Elephant Island is holding a talent show, and everyone's excited. Belinda's going to do ballet, Tiki's planned a magic act, and Ella wants to do something too…but what? As the other elephants rush about getting their acts ready, Ella gives advice, lends support, and wonders: Does she herself have any talent at all?

With Ella in the spotlight, readers know that a standing ovation is sure to follow.

Getting dressed has never been so much fun!

LET'S PLAY IN THE FOREST WHILE THE WOLF IS NOT AROUND

BY CLAUDIA RUEDA

"Let's play in the forest while the wolf is not around," sing the animals. "Wolf, are you there?" "I am putting on my underpants," Wolf answers.

As Duck, Bunny, Moose, and others play, Wolf continues getting dressed. By the time he has put on his backpack, he is VERY hungry, and the animals are VERY afraid. Luckily, Wolf is hungry for pancakes, his favourite!

Toddlers and preschoolers will squirm with anticipation, squeal with delight, and thrill to dress themselves as they play along with this winsome read-aloud!

A hilarious, easy-to-read story about a boy and his pet fly.

FLY GUY #3: SHOO, FLY GUY!

BY TEDD ARNOLD

Fly Guy is looking for something to eat. He finds something brown. But it belongs to a boy who chases him and shouts, "Shoo, fly!" He finds something oozy. But it belongs to a girl who chases him and yells, "Shoo, fly!" He finds something lumpy that belongs to a dog and some smelly roadkill that belongs to a vulture. Finally, Fly Guy finds something brown, oozy, lumpy, AND smelly. And it's Fly Guy's favourite food—Shoofly Pie, of course!

Hilarious illustrations of Fly Guy in pursuit of some really gross chow and of humans and animals in pursuit of Fly Guy—along with repetitive, easy-to-read text—make this a perfect choice for new readers with a taste for edgy stories!

THE WHEELS ON THE BUS

ILLUSTRATED BY MICHELLE SWAN

With fun illustrations and a sturdy wheel manipulative, this novelty book puts kids in the driver's seat. They can sing along with the lively lyrics while turning each page.

A die cut in the cover reveals a bus on the upper half of the book. When a child turns the wheel, the bus appears to move forward "all through the town!"

A new story of friendship from Breyer and Scholastic.

STABLEMATES: SNOWFLAKE

BY SUZANNE WEYN
ILLUSTRATED BY JACQUELINE ROGERS

Snowflake was abandoned by his owners and taken to Fox Creek Ranch, where Emily, Anna, and Mandy volunteer to care for him. As winter approaches, the girls worry that Snowflake will be cold. So they plan to raise money to buy Snowflake a blanket. A beautiful keepsake card and facts about Percheron horses are also included! THE WICKED HISTORY OF THE WORLD

BY TERRY DEARY AND MARTIN BROWN

The Wicked History of the World presents the foul but fascinating story of humans, from cannibal cavemen to the world wars of the twentieth century. This is the best book ever written to prove history teachers wrong, pester parents, and disgust grandmothers.

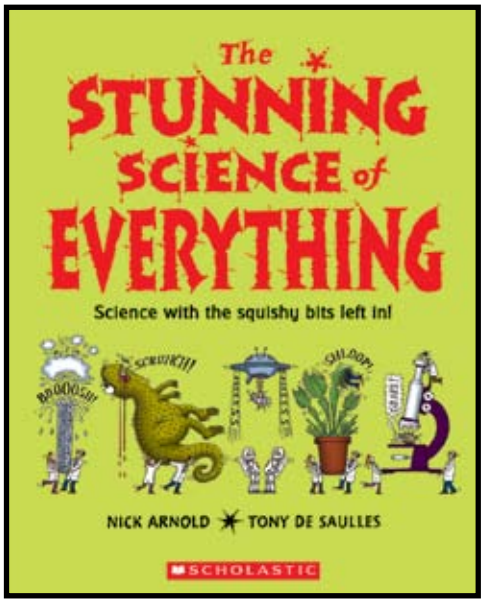

Want to know…

The ghastly fate of Captain Cook?

What smelly sport was played by Samurai warriors?

Who tried to kill her enemies with a cake made from poisoned bath water?

…then open The Wicked History of the World to learn all the horrible details.

THE STUNNING SCIENCE OF EVERYTHING

BY NICK ARNOLD AND TONY DE SAULLES

The Stunning Science of Everything is a gruesome guided tour of the world of science, from the tiniest atom to the far-reaching corners of the universe. Every page is oozing with funny facts that are guaranteed to make you gag and giggle, including a bonus pull-out timeline of science.

Want to know…

What the Assassin Bug's best disguise looks like?

If meteors in space can smell bad?

What poos in your bed twenty times a day?

If we're actually breathing dinosaur burps?

…then open The Stunning Science of Everything to learn all the gory details.

TERRY DEARY was born in Sunderland, England. His history classes were so boring that he now exacts revenge through his writing.

MARTIN BROWN is originally from Australia, now lives in the UK, and makes his living drawing doodles and little figures.

Since 1996, the UK-based team of writer NICK ARNOLD and illustrator TONY DE SAULLES have been amusing, informing, and grossing out readers with their award-winning series of Horrible Science books.

WELCOME, PRECIOUS

BY NIKKI GRIMES
ILLUSTRATED BY BRYAN COLLIER

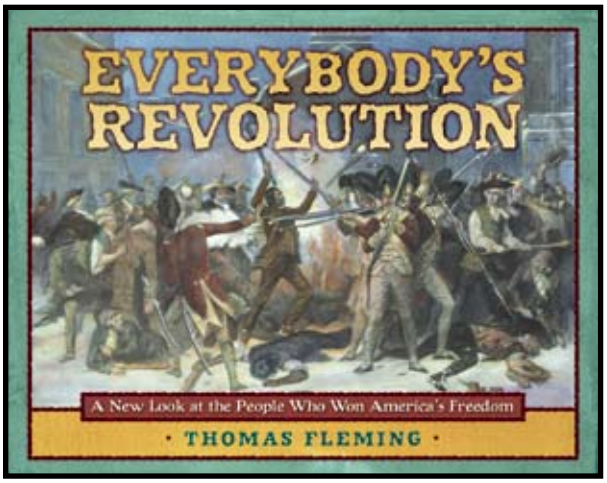

Welcome, Precious. Welcome to the warm circle of your daddy's arms, the slippery kisses of your giddy grandmother, and the cool tickle of Mommy's nose rubbing against your belly button.

Lulling, poetic text and captivating illustrations welcome a new baby to the wonders of the world, from peanut butter to moonlight. A perfect gift for expecting parents, big brothers- and sisters-to-be, or anyone who wishes to remember life's first magical moments.

Author-poet NIKKI GRIMES is the author of a great many award-winning books for children and young adults, including Bronx Masquerade, winner of the 2003 Coretta Scott King Author Award, and Coretta Scott King Honor books Jazmin's Notebook and Talkin' About Bessie, which was published by Orchard Books in 2002. She is the recipient of the 2006 NCTE Award for Excellence in Poetry for Children. Also a multimedia and fiber artist, Ms. Grimes lives in Corona, California.

BRYAN COLLIER has illustrated a number of award-winning children's books, including Coretta Scott King Illustrator Award winners Uptown and Rosa, as well as Coretta Scott King Illustrator Honor books Freedom River, Martin's Big Words: The Life of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., and Visiting Langston. Martin's Big Words and Rosa were also Caldecott Honor books. Bryan Collier lives in New York City, where he directs mural programs for kids.

Find out who really fought America's most important war!

EVERYBODY'S REVOLUTION:

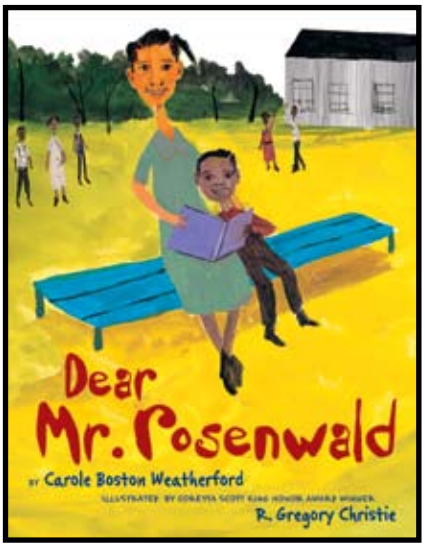

A NEW LOOK AT THE PEOPLE WHO WON AMERICA'S FREEDOM

BY THOMAS FLEMING

The participants in the patriot cause during the American Revolution were far more multicultural and multiethnic than we have for so long believed. Women, African Americans, Jews, Native Americans, Hispanic Americans, European immigrants, and young adults played leading roles in the struggle for independence from Great Britain.

These are the compelling stories of courageous men and women who sensed the coming greatness of America, contributed significantly to it's history, and fought for the concepts of liberty and equality.

From Coretta Scott King Honor Award-Winner R. Gregory Christie.

DEAR MR. ROSENWALD

BY CAROLE BOSTON WEATHERFORD
ILLUSTRATED BY R. GREGORY CHRISTIE

When Ovella's town hears that Julius Rosenwald, the president of Sears, Roebuck and Co., is donating money to help them build a new school, Ovella can hardly believe her ears. But the community will have to raise a lot of money, secure land, and build the school themselves. How on earth will poor people find money to give away? Ovella wonders.

Based on the true story of the Rosenwald schools, thousands of which were built across the rural South in the 1920s and 30s, Dear Mr. Rosenwald is a powerful and uplifting story about people who dreamed things could be different.

THOMAS FLEMING has written more than forty nonfiction and fiction titles, including Liberty! The American Revolution, the companion book to the PBS series. He is considered one of the leading writers on the American Revolution. He lives in New York City.

R. GREGORY CHRISTIE's first book for children, The Palm of My Heart, won a Coretta Scott King Honor Award for illustration. He has since illustrated numerous books for children, including Only Passing Through: The Story of Sojourner Truth, a Coretta Scott King Award winner. Mr. Christie lives in Brooklyn, New York.

THE MAGIC SCHOOL BUS AND THE SCIENCE FAIR EXPEDITION

BY JOANNA COLE AND BRUCE DEGEN

What is science? Ms. Frizzle's students need science fair projects and they need them fast! As usual, Ms. Frizzle has a zany plan. The class heads out for a whirlwind tour of science through the ages, getting ideas from some of the greatest scientists of all time—Galileo, Newton, Einstein, and more.

The scientists they meet are inquisitive, creative, and determined—a lot like Ms. Frizzle! After all, with their observations, experiments, and endless curiosity, these brilliant minds laid the foundation for modern science—and for our science fairs today. So don't miss the bus. Hop on board for an illuminating look at what science is all about!

For the 20th anniversary of the Magic School Bus, JOANNA COLE and BRUCE DEGEN decided to go right to the heart of what has excited them throughout the entire series—science and the scientific method.

Named a "can't miss team," by Booklist, Joanna and Bruce have received numerous awards for their work, the most recent being the National Endowment for the Arts Foundation Award for Outstanding Service to Public Education. They are dedicated to making learning fun, and with the wackiest and wisest teacher in picture books on board, a good time is guaranteed.

Joanna Cole lives in Key West, Florida, with her husband. Bruce Degen resides in Newtown, Connecticut, with his wife. While it often surprises fans of their books, Joanna and Bruce are not married to each other.

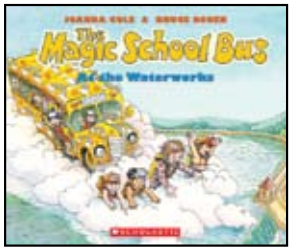

Don't forget!

A Message from the Founding Editor of The Magic School Bus Series

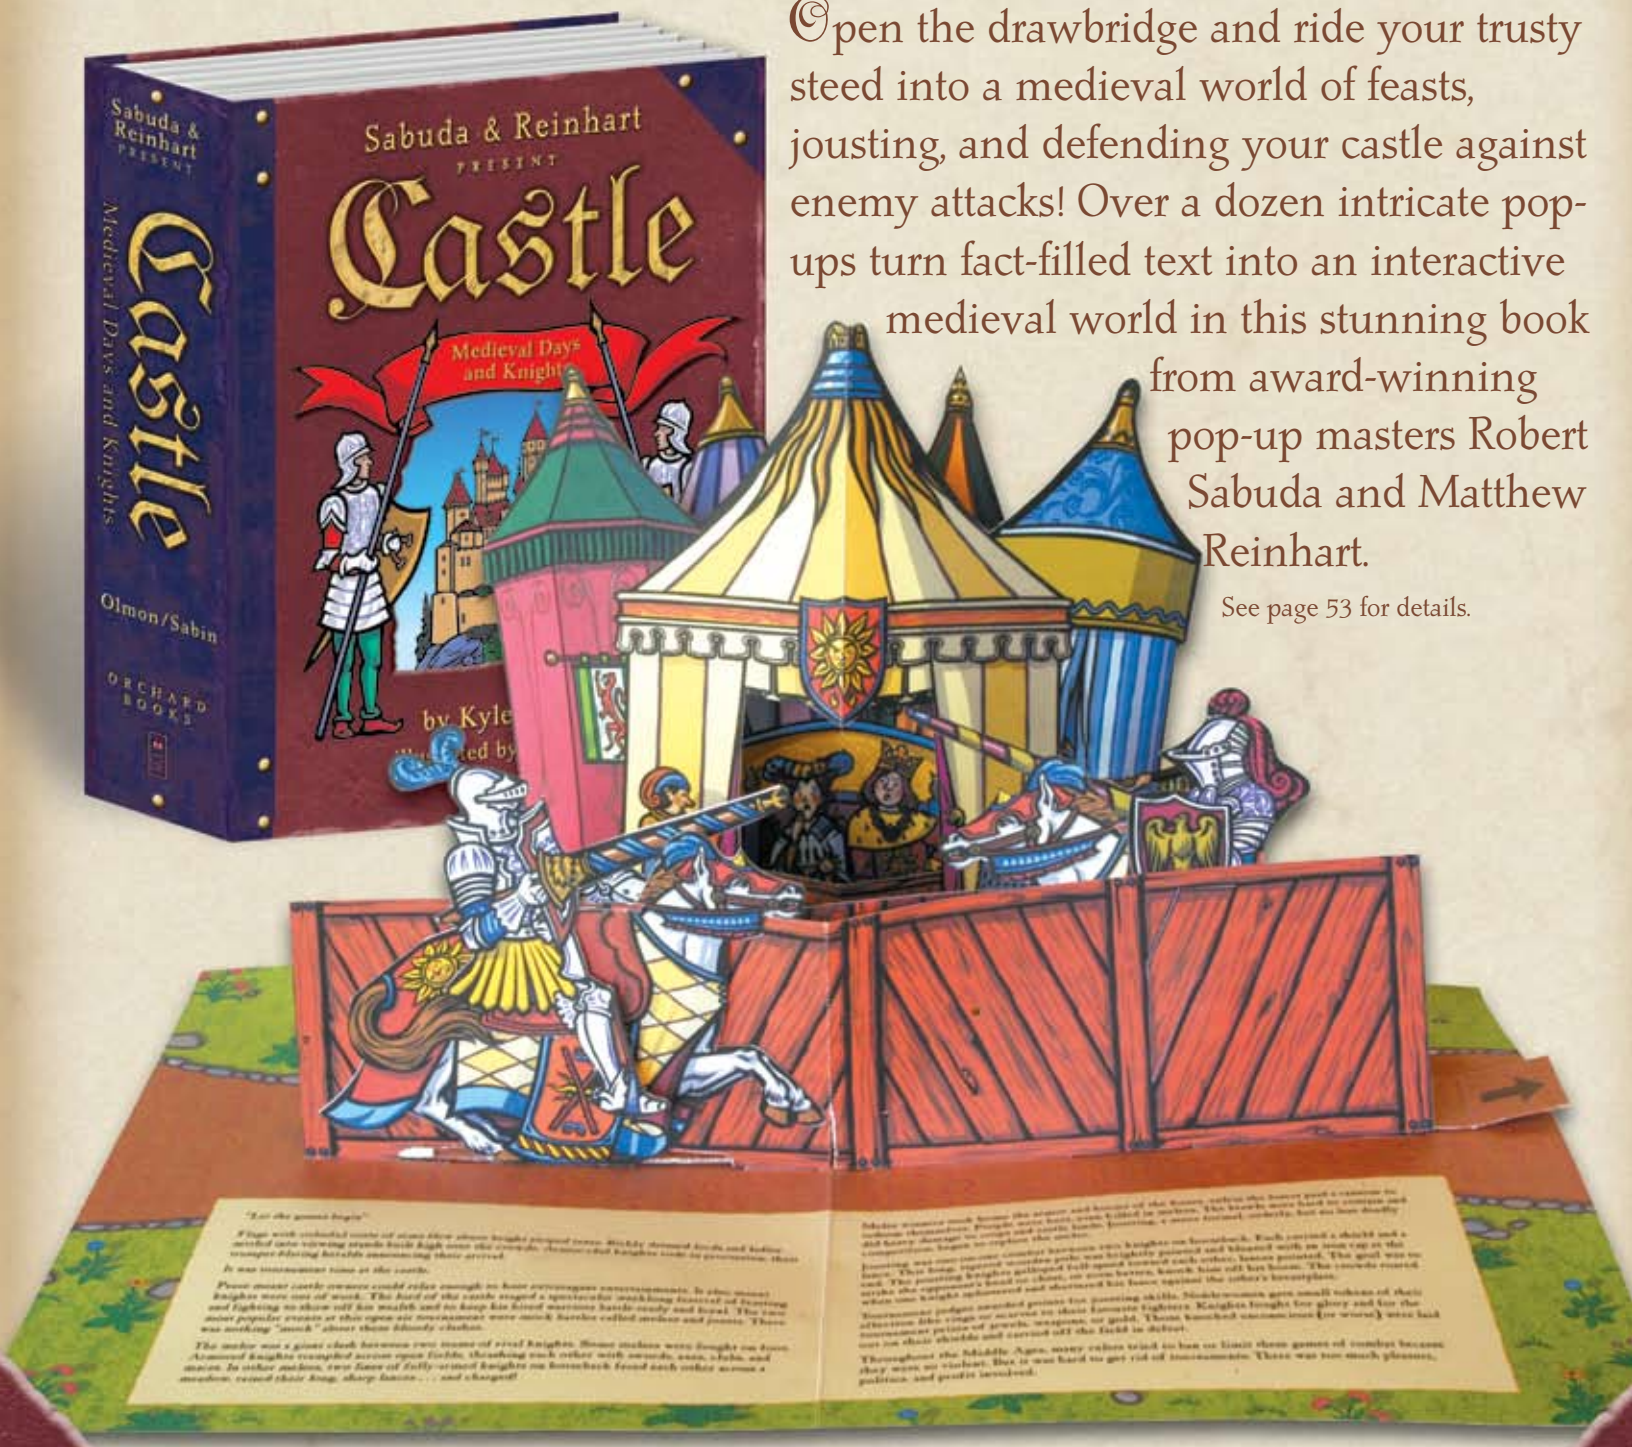

In 1986, science books were primarily black and white photos and drawings, while the world of children's fiction was exploding with colour. So I began exploring the idea of putting curricular materials in science for the early grades into a fictional picture book format. I was guided by the principle that every Magic School Bus story must 1) be based on a core subject in science, and 2) involve a field trip.

Exceeding all my expectations, our first books about geology, the human body, the solar system, the oceans, and dinosaurs would become staples in elementary classrooms. Twenty years later, the Magic School Bus series remains as fresh and enlightening as ever before (much like myself). The Magic School Bus and the Science Fair Expedition is all about discovery. If you haven't already, I hope you'll discover how wonderful it is to take a child for a ride on The Magic School Bus.
